DEATH.

Three Italians Swung into Eternity.

They Face Death Without the Slightest Fear.

A History of the Terrible Crime For Which They Were Hung.

TRIPPLE HANGING.

Execution of the Italian Murderers at Chicago.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Gelardi, Azari and Sylvestri, three Italian murderers who are to be hanged at noon to-day, for the murder of their fellow countryman Filippo Caruso, passed a quet night. As early as 9 a. m., there was a large crowd assembled in the vicinity of the county jail.

GONE TO GLORY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The execution of Azari, Silvestri and Gelardi took place at noon to-day in the county jail.

The drop fell at precisely 12:09 o'clock. At 11:46 the condemned men with their spiritual advisers were taken to the jail library where their death warrants were read and the march to the scaffold followed. On arriving at the gallows the condemned men were at once placed in the proper position on the trap, side by side. They all repeated in Italian, their prayers for the dying as first pronounced by the priests. The caps and nooses were then adjusted and the trap was sprung.

Silvestri and Gelardi died at once, their necks being broken. A more fearful death was decreed for Azzaro. The nooze slipped when the drop stretched the rope and the knot lodged under his chin. His convulsive struggles were terrific to see. He was slowly strangling. For full four minutes the twitching lasted. It was seven minutes before his pulse ceased to beat.

HISTORY OF THE CRIME

The crime for which the dread sentence of the law will be to-day enforced, was one which for cooly plotted design and diabolism has never been equalled in the criminal annals of Chicago. In the afternoon of the first of May, of the present year, a trunk was put off a train at Pittsburg, Pa., which emitted such an offensive, nauseating stench that the suspicions of the railroad officials were aroused and the coroner was called upon to investigate. The trunk was opened and in it was found a mass of human flesh packed and jammed into its narrow confines with cold blooded brutality. The legs had been broken and tied tightly to the trunk. The arms also were tightly lashed down and the body was wrenched and distorted as though the merciless brutes had stamped it down with their boots into the chest. About the throat was the livid welt of a cord, and there were numerous abrasions where the face had scraped along the side of the trunk. Save the fact that the trunk and its contents had been shipped from Chicago, there was absolutely not the ghost of clue to the inhuman wretches whose crime had been brought to light. The case was given in charge of Detective Bonfield, and one slender thread, and then another, was followed up until the tangled skein was straightened out. Diligent search unearthed the store where the trunk had been purchased. An enterprising reporter traced its movements on the morning of the purchase to 74 Tilden street, right in the heart of the Italian colony. Twelve hours afterwards the chain of evidence was strong enough to justify the arrest of fifteen natives of the sunny clime. None of them could speak a word of English, nor were they familiar with the ways of this country. Before they had been under arrest a day all were eager to tell the revolting story of the crime, but of the host of confessions sufficient evidence was obtained to warrant the framing of indictments against the three condemned men and Antonio Mecuvio and Aquaizia Bova. The trials took place about six weeks ago and lasted over a week.

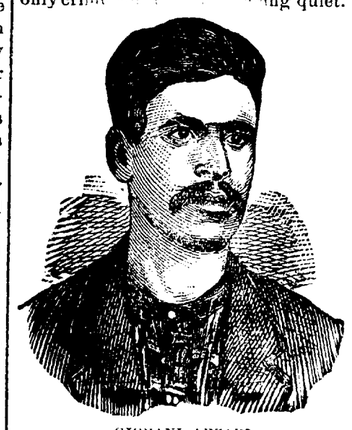

The accused were defended by Mr. Baumann a colored lawyer, and Miss Kate W. Kane. The trial was conducted with fairness and impartiality. Bova and Mecuvio were acquitted, and their three companions in the dock were convicted and sentenced to death.

This was the story as brought out at the trial. The unfortunate wretch [illegible] hand of ready cash aroused the avarice of his Italian mates was

FILIPO CARUSSO.

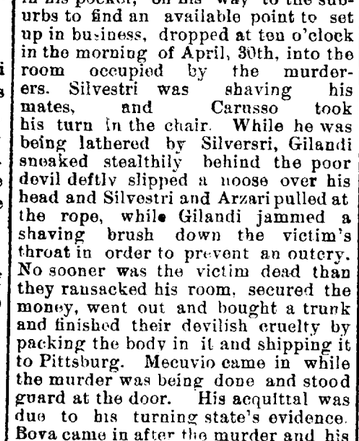

Carusso was a fruit peddler of some twenty-eight years. Industrious and economical and of frugal habits, he had succeeded in saving about $300. This became known to his murderers. To them it represented a princely fortune, and they planned the murder in order to obtain the money. For two weeks they were occupied in laying the wires. Corusso, with the money in his pocket, on his way to the suburbs to find an available point to set up in business, dropped at ten o'clock in the morning of April, 30th, into the room occupied by the murderers. Silvestri was shaving his mates, and Carusso took his turn in the chair. While he was being lathered by Silversri, Gilandi sneaked stealthily behind the poor devil deftly slipped a noose over his head and Silvestri and Arzari pulled at the rope, while Gilandi jammed a shaving brush down the victim's throat in order to prevent an outcry. No sooner was the victim dead than they ransacked his room, secured the money, went out and bought a trunk and finished their devilish cruelty by packing the body in it and shipping it to Pittsburg. Mecuvio came in while the murder was being done and stood guard at the door. His acquittal was due to his turning state's evidence. Bova came in after the murder and his only crime was [illegible] being quiet.

GIOVANI ARZARI

was the oldest of the three murderers. He was born in Trabbia, Italy, thirty-one years ago and had been married nine years. His wife and one child still reside in Italy, where he left them a year ago while he came to seek his fortune in the in the new world. He was five feet ten inches in height and weighed 147 pounds. He had all the characteristics of the Italian race, black hair, swarthy skin and dark brown eyes.

A short, [illegible] of a fellow was

IGNATIO SILVESTRI.

He was a [illegible]sin of Arzari and came to this country a year ago, leaving behind him a wife who has recently given birth to a child. He was five feet 6⅝ inches tall, weighed 131 pounds, had curly, dark brown hair, dark eyes and complexion of his race, but had been Americanized to the extent of having "Chicago" and "America" pricked on his arm in India ink.

A real [illegible]

whose fragile beauty had won from his countrymen the proud distinction of the pet name, "the dude." "He had become infatuated with the wife of one of the Italian colony in the house where the murder occured, and if the whole truth were known it would probably show that the woman was the instigator of the crime. Gilandi captured the lion's share of the cash and promptly started for Italy in company with his mistress. The pair however were overhauled in New York. Gilandi stood five feet eight, weight 143 pounds and was twenty-three years old. He was born in Termini Mervese, province of Palermo, Italy, where he has an 18 year old wife and a babe of 13 months.

The Destructive Fire at Galveston.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—The weather to-day is spring-like and warm, business generally resumed and stores open, but the city has a holiday air about it. People are moving about with very sad faces, and thousands constantly visit the burnt district. Small smouldering fires are still seen here and there. The fire department are tearing down dangerous chimneys and clearing the streets. The relief committees are at work and the homeless families are being sheltered.

The hotels are filled with homeless people and the citizens' committee is now at work apportioning families to rooms and places vacated for their use. Every vehicle in the city is at work carrying strewn furniture to secure places. Thousands of people haunt the burned district looking among the smoking ruins for valuables, keepsakes or jewelry, hoping to find something left, but all is blank and barren as a desert.

A meeting of the citizens is now in progress at Colton Exchange, to provide immediate relief to the poorer victims. Already the rich men of the city and the well-to-do, and even those who have lost their elegant mansions have determined to provide for the poorer people and Galveston will probably make no appeal to the outside world.

With the exception of half a dozen grocery stores and the iron and car repairing foundry, where the fire started, no places of business were destroyed. Telegrams of sympathy and offers of aid are already pouring in from the sister cities in Texas.

Something over 400 hundred houses were burned, and it is estimated by the relief committee that about 1,000 families were rendered homeless, the great majority of whom (especially the poorer ones) lost everything, as, in the poorer districts, they had little or no time to move furniture, while the wealthier victims moved valuable pictures and effects. Several of the finest houses, however, were burned without a single article being saved, so confident were the occupants that the fire would pass by them. The meeting at the Cotton Exchange this afternoon, was largely attended by the business men, who at once set about providing relief for the homeless and suffering. A general relief committee of twenty-seven prominent citizens was organized, with W. L. Moody president of the Cotton Exchange as chairman. A finance committee of five, with Col. Wm. H. Sinclair as chairman, was named by the original committee. Besides these committees there are sub-committees for the various sections of the burned district. Contributions are pouring in from all parts of the city. At the citizens meeting at the cotton exchange $16,500 was subscribed by the business men. Among the largest subscribers, are Ball Hutchins & Co., bankers, $1,000; P. J. Willis & Co., wholesale druggists, $1,000; L. & H. Blum, $500; Sampsom & Heidenheimer $500; W. L. Moody 500; J. D. Rogers & Co., $500; Island City savings bank, $500 and the Geo Bell charity fund $1,000. Capt. Jas B. Eads, the celebrated engineer, telegraphs $100 from St. Louis; Kingman & Co., cotton buyers, of Houston, send $500. The following telegram was read at 9 p. m.

NEW YORK, November 13.

To Hon. Roger L. Fulton, Mayor, Galveston, Texas:

I am in just in receipt of dispatches with an account of the terrible conflagration that has visited your beautiful city. Please accept my deep sympathy in your misfortune. I only hope the loss is overestimated. You may draw on me at sight for $5,000, to be used under the direction of a relief committee, or otherwise, at your discretion, to relieve the needy.

(signed) JAY GOULD.

It cannot be said what the loss will be. The best posted citizens estimate the loss at fully $2,000,000, while many who claim to have figured on the matter put it as high as $2,500,000.

The total insurance is $980,000, largely in foreign companies.

A Passenger Wreck at Chicago.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The incoming New York express on the Chicago and Atlantic railway, was thrown from the track just inside the city limits, about 9 o'clock this morning. None of the passengers were injured excepting two ladies, who were on their way to Denver. They were badly bruised. The engine and baggage car were badly wrecked. The cause of the accident is unknown.

WAR DECLARED

Between Servia and Bulgaria.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Belgrade says it is officially announced that the Bulgarians having attacked Servia at Veasin King Milan accepts the act as a declaration of war. Peace, therefore, is ended. At 6 o'clock this morning King Milan has assumed command of the Servian army and active operations will be begun at once.

The Servian army has commenced moving forward and an advance on Sofia is anticipated. The troops display much enthusiasm.

The Servian advance, marching from Pirot direct on Sofia, will probably have the first decisive battle of the war early to-morrow, when they are expected to reach a difficult and rocky gorge of the Dragoman defile, where a number of Bulgarian batallions have been concentrated and where a stand may be made.

BULGARIA DECLARES.

SOFIA, Nov. 14.—The following has just been received by the government: "The Servians having invaded Bulgaria to-day near Tsaribrad, before declaring war, Bulgaria has decided to uphold her national cause by all means at her disposal. Intense excitement prevails and active preparations are being made to defend the city. A number of heavy guns are being mounted in available positions commanding the different roads leading to the city.

BELGRADE, Nov. 14.—The Servian army is marching in three divisions on Sofia. General Harvatavitch commands the left wing, General Leshyeania the right, and King Milan, the centre. The whole force is expected to concentrate at Sofia, on November 22. The roads are covered with snow, retarding the progress of the army.

Dispatches from the front state that a sharp fight has occurred between the advance guards of the Servian and Bulgarian armies on the road between Trn and Blsnia. The Bulgarians retired.

SERVIA AND BULGARIA.

Servia and Bulgaria adjoin Turkey proper and are tributary to that country although given independance by the powers. King Milan occupies the Servian throne and Prince Alexander presides over the destinies of Bulgaria. The trouble arose from the absorption of Roumelia by Bulgaria some time ago, and which the European powers are now striving to settle. Bulgaria was the scene of the Turko-Russia war and it is not improbable that this war may lead Russia, Turkey, Greece, England, Germany and possibly France and Austria into the controversy.

BERLIN, November 13.—The five German-Americans whose expulsion from the Island of Fahr, was recently ordered by the German government, were expelled under the law of 1841, which has been revived and which does not allow foreigners to settle or even reside temporarily at that place unless the local authorities permit them.

CALCUTTA, November 13. — Lord Dufferin, viceroy of India, has ordered General Pendergrast, commanding the Burmah expedition, to prepare to invade Burmah, forthwith, and proceed with all haste to capture Mandelay. The British forces will now cross the the frontier immediaiely.

Recent dispatches from Rangoon state that the inhabitants of districts of British Burmah where no large garrisons are maintained are greatly alarmed and report that King Thebaw has subsidized 15,000 Dacoits to cross the frontier and begin plundering and murdering at the first note of war. The Dacoits are robbers, who work in large gangs and are noted for their bold exploits. Having neither baggage nor commissariat they were at marvellous speed and it will be hard for the British troops to catch them.

RANGOON, November 13.—The British will mass at Thayetmyo and thence make an attack on Minhla, where the Burmah troops are arriving.

LONDON, November 13.—The United States government has asked the German and Spanish governments to protect American missions on the Caroline Islands.

Damages Found.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—A special from Jackson says that in the United States court yesterday a jury in the case of the United States vs. Dennis Scarbough, of Clark county, for cutting timber on the government land, returned a verdict against the defendant for $5,000.

A Defaulter Captured.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHOTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 14.—The postoffice inspectors in this city have effected the capture of Will R. Jackson the defaulting assistant postmaster of Americus, Georgia. He was captured at Los Angeles, Cal.

The Strike Ends.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. The strike on the Illinois Central railway is apparently at an end, all the brakemen returning to work this morning. The men are waiting anxiously for the result of the conference which is to be held by general superintendents of freight of the different roads.

Business Failure.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—C. T. Pickard & Co., importers of jewelry, have failed, with liabilities of $60,000.

Another Shoe Factory Strike.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

BRACKTON, Mas. Nov. 14.—The manufacturers' price list was posted yesterday in the factory of C. F. Parker and immediately the lasters went out. A member of the advisory board stated the men had not been ordered out and he could not give a reason for their leaving the factory. If these men remain out it is probable a general strike will be inaugurated Monday, which will throw 5,000 men out of work.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 14.—Reports received at the army headquarters state that the Piegans are out from their reservation in Wyoming, on another maurading tour. General Howard has given discretionary orders to the commander of Fort McKinney.

Railroad Rattle.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHATANOOGA, Tenn., November 13. —A dispatch to the Times from Huntsville, Alabama, says the stockholders of the Memphis & Charleston railway, have decided to issue addditional stock, amounting to two and a quarter million of dollars, to pay off certain indebtedness and build a road from Stevenson, Alabama, to Chattanooga, a distance of forty miles.

OTTAWA, November 13.—At a meeting of the International Railway company, held at Sherbrooke, to-day, the old board of directors retired, and Duncan McIntyre, W. C. VanHorne and the other Canada Pacific directors were elected in their places. It is reported that the International company has become a part of the Canada Pacific.

PITTSBURG, November 13.—A company has been formed, composed mostly of Pittsburg capitalists for the purpose of building a railroad across the state of Kentucky, into Tennessee. The line of the proposed road was surveyed from Evansville, Indiana, down through DeKoyen, Ky., to Jackson, Tenn. It is to be called the Ohio Valley railroad, and extends in a southwesterly direction, opening up a portion of country the richest in mineral and agricultural products, of any part of the state. This line will be two hundred miles in length and the cost of building will not exceed $2,000,000.

YOUNG IS SANE.

His Sentence is Imprisonment for Life.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

SYCAMORE, Ill., Nov. 14.—Young, the confessed murderer of H. P. Allen, was yesterday brought before Judge Killom and a jury summoned to try his sanity. Young's statements, made at different times, were read in court. His last statement was a long history of his life and adventures, with tirades against religion and religious training, given at reformatory institutions. After the reading, several medical men and prison authorities testified that they found no trace of insanity in the prisoner and the jury returned a verdict finding him sane. Judge Killom asked Young if he still persisted in his plea of guilty, and, upon being answered in the affirmative, sentenced him to imprisonment for life. It is thought in case the governor does not pardon Wm. Thomas, who has served five years of a seventeen-year sentence for this crime, his friends will get his case before the courts on a writ of habeas corpus.

Fire Record.

One bottle of Athlophoros relieved my wife who has rheumatism for over four years from all pain, gave her a good appetite and in fact made a strong woman out of a feeble one. I can recommend it. A. B, Tousley, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A LEVEL-HEADED NEWSDEALER.

Newsdealers are as a class popularly supposed to know a good thing when they see it, and are ever on the lookout for that which will interest and please the public. In a humble way Edison was once a newsdealer, having sold papers on railroads. Among newsdealers who have a keen eye to business and to everything that can be of benefit is Mr. G. W. Dove, of Vincennes, Ind., whose place of business is at No. 114 Second street. Mr. Dove was recently afflicted with rheumatism, but quickly cured himself by using Athlophoros. This is what he says about it:

"Athlophoros is a good medicine and it did for me all that I could ask. At the time when I began using it I was sadly afflicted with rheumatism. I was in a helpless state and suffered untold pain, not being able to get out of bed or to be moved without enduring the greatest agony. I had read some time before of the wonderful cures of people effected by Athlophoros, and at the time tried to buy it at the drug stores, but could not find any. As I was determined to try it I sent to the company for some."

"Did it act quickly upon you?"

"I felt the effects almost immediately. After I had taken a few doses the pain subsided. The medicine seemed to go directly where the pain was."

"Have you had any return of the pain?"

"I have not suffered any to speak of since. I used only three bottles and consider it the best medicine for rheumatism that I know of. I recommended it to a gentleman in St. Louis who had his mother use some and was very much pleased with the result. I have recommended it to different persons, and in every instance where it was used it gave entire satisfaction."

J. A. Wilson, the well-known photographer, 6 and 8 Main St., New Albany, tells an equally interesting story of how Athlophoros cured him of rheumatism:

"I only used one bottle," he says. "The rheumatism was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a great deal, when a friend coming into my gallery one morning asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. Said my friend: 'I was reading of a medicine that is for the cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. It struck me forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to.' When I asked him what it was he said the name was Athlophoros. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago and have not had a pain or an ache from rheumatism since."

From Greencastle, Ind., D. L. Southard has this to say of what Athlophoros did for him:

"When Bishop Bowman brought me a bottle of Athlophoros I was suffering greatly from rheumatism and could scarcely move. I began taking the medicine on Thursday morning. At 9 P. M. I went to sleep and slept until 6 o'clock Friday morning, when I got up and said to my wife: 'Dear, look here, I am well.' At the first I was so much better that I stopped using the medicine and the rheumatism came back. The second attack was not stopped so easily, but still in double the time the Athlophoros removed the pain. The medicine had no unpleasant effect, but seemed to quiet, soothe and give relief."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

BIBLE ASTRONOMY.

Wonderful Lessons it Teaches—Beauties of the Heavens and the Everlasting Beyond.

A Haven of Eternal Rest for the Believers of the Gospel,

And Those Who Seek the Maker of the Pleiades and Orion.

The music at the Brooklyn tabernacle Sunday morning, by Prof. Henry Eyre Brown, was more than usually excellent. It consisted of the organ solo Satz, No. 1, in C minor, by Thiele. The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., expounded the twentieth chapter of the First Book of Samuel, where it is told how David's wife deceived her husband's enemies by an effigy. The preacher showed that the poorest way to get out of trouble was to lie out. The opening hymn was:

"Sun of my soul, thou Savior dear,
It is not night, if Thou art near."

The subject of the sermon was: "The Pleiades and Orion," and the text was from Amos v., 8: "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion." Following is Dr. Talmage's sermon in full:

A country farmer wrote this txet—Amos of Tekoa. He plowed the earth and threshed the grain by a new threshing machine just invented, as formerly the cattle trod out the grain. He gathered the fruit of the sycamore tree, and scarified it with an iron comb just before it was getting ripe, as it was necessary and customary in that way to take away from it the bitterness. He was the son of a poor shepherd, and stuttered; but before the stammering rustic the Philistines and Syrians and Phœnicians and Moabites and Ammonites and Edomites and Israelites trembled. Moses was a law giver, Daniel was a prince, Isaiah a courtier and David a king; but Amos, the author of my text, was a peasant, and, as might be supposed, nearly all the parallelisms are pastoral, his prophecy full of the odor of new-mown hay and the rattle of locusts and the rumble of carts with sheaves and the roar of wild beasts devouring the flock, while the shepherd came out in their defense. He watched the herd by day and by night, inhabited a booth made out of bushes, so that through these branches he could see the stars all night long, and was more familiar with them than we who have tight roofs to our houses and hardly ever see the stars except among the tall brick chimneys of the great towns. But at seasons of the year when the herds were in special danger he would stay out in the open field all through the darkness, his only shelter the curtain of the night, heaven with the stellar embroideries and silver tassels of lunar light.

What a life of solitude, all alone with his herds! Poor Amos! and at 12 o'clock at night, hark to the wolf's bark, and the lion's roar, and the bear's growl, and the owl's te-whit-te-whos, and the serpent's hiss, as he unwittingly steps too near while moving through the thickets! So Amos, like other herdsmen, got the habit of studying the map of the heavens, because it was so much of the time spread out before him. He noticed some stars advancing and others receding. He associated their dawn and setting with certain seasons of the year. He had a poetic nature, and he read night by night, and month by month, and year by year, the poem of the constellations, divinely rhythmic.

But two rosettes of stars especially attracted his attention while seated on the ground or lying on his back under the open scroll of the midnight heavens—

THE PLEIADES, OR SEVEN STARS, AND ORION.

The former group this rustic prophet associated with the spring, as it raises about the first of May. The latter he associated with the winter, as it comes to the meridian in January. The Pleiades, or Seven stars, connected with all sweetness and joy; Orion, the herald of the tempest. The ancients were the more apt to study the physiognomy and juxtaposition of the heavenly bodies, because they thought they had a special influence upon the earth, and perhaps they were right. If the moon every few hours lifts and lets down the tides of the Atlantic ocean, and the electric storms of last year in the sun, by all scientific admission affected the earth, why not the stars have proportionate effect? And there are some things which make me think that it may not have been all superstition which connected the movements and appearance of the heavenly bodies with great moral events on earth. Did not a meteor run on evangelistic errand on the first Christmas night and designate the rough cradle of our Lord? Did not the stars in their courses fight against Sisera? Was it merely coincidental that before the destruction of Jerusalem the moon was eclipsed for twelve consecutive nights? Did it merely happen so that a new star appeared in constellation Cassiopeia and then disappeared just before King Charles IX. of France, who was responsible for St. Bartholomew massacre, died? Was it without significance that in the days of Roman Emperor Justinian war and faming were preceded by the dimness of the sun, which for nearly a year gave no more light than the moon, although there were no clouds to obscure it? Astrology, after all, may have been something more than a brilliant heathenism. No wonder that Amos of the text, having heard these two anthems of the stars, put down the stout rough staff of the herdsman and took into his brown hand and cut and knotted fingers the pen of a prophet, and advised the recreant people of his time to return to God, saying: "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

This command, which Amos gave 785 years B. C., is just as appropriate for us 1885 A. D.

In the first place, Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made the Pleiades and Orion must be

THE GOD OF ORDER.

It was not so much a star here and a star there that impressed the inspired herdsman, but seven in one group and four in the other group. He saw that night after night and season after season and decade after decade they had kept step of light, each one in its own place, a sisterhood never clashing and never contesting precedence. From the time Hesiod called the Pleiades the "seven daughters of Atlas," and Virgil wrote in his "Æneid" of "Stormy Orion," until now, they have observed the order established for their coming and going; order written not in manuscript that may be pigeon-holed, but with the hand of the Almighty on the dome of the sky, so that all nations may read it. Order. Persistent order. Sublime order. Omnipotent order. What a sedative to you and me to whom communities and nations sometimes seem going pell mell, and the world ruled by some fiend at hap-hazard, and in all directions mal-administration! The God who keeps seven worlds in right circuit for six thousand years can certainly keep all the affairs of individuals and nations and continents in adjustment. We had not better fret much for the peasant's argument of the text was right. If God can take care of the seven worlds of the Pleiades and the four chief worlds of Orion, He can probably take care of the one world we inhabit. So I feel very much as my father felt one day when we were going to the country mill to get a grist ground, and I, a boy of seven years, sat in the back part of the wagon, and our yoke of oxen ran away with us and along a labyrinthine road through the woods, so that I thought every moment we would be dashed to pieces, and I made a terrible outcry of fright, and my father turned to me with a face perfectly calm and said: "DeWitt, what are you crying about? I guess we can ride as fast as the oxen can run." And, my hearers, why should we be affrighted and lose our equilibrium in the swift movement of worldly events, especially when we are assured that it is not a yoke of unbroken steers that are drawing us on, but that order and wise government are in the yoke? In your occupation, your mission, your sphere, do the best you can and then trust God, and if things are all mixed, and disquieting, and your brain is hot and your heart sick, get some one to go out with you into the starlight and point out to you the Pleiades, or, better than that, get into some observatory, and through the telescope see further than Amos with the naked eye could—namely, two hundred stars in the Pleiades, and that in what is called the Sword of Orion there is a nebula computed to be two trillion two hundred thousand billions of times larger than the sun. Oh, be at peace with the God who made and controls all that! The wheel of the constellations turning in the wheel of galaxies for thousands of years without the breaking of a cog or the slipping of a band or the snap of an axle. For your placidity and comfort, through the Lord Jesus Christ, I charge you, "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two groups of the text was

THE GOD OF LIGHT.

Amos saw that God was not satisfied with making one star, or two or three stars, but He makes seven, and, having that group of worlds, makes another group, group after group. To the Pleiades he adds Orion. It seems that God likes light so well that He keeps making it. Only one being in the universe knows the statistics of solar, lunar, stellar, meteroic creations, and that is the Creator himself. And they have all been lovingly christened, each one a name as distinct as the names of your children. "He telleth the number of the stars; He calleth them by their names." The seven Pleiades had names given to them and they are Alcyone, Merope, Celeno, Electra, Sterope, Taygete and Maia. But think of the billions and trillions of daughters of starry light that God calls by name as they sweep by Him with beaming brow and lustrous robe. So fond is God of light, natural light, moral light, spiritual light. Again and again is light harnessed for symbolization—Christ, the bright and morning star; evangelization, the daybreak; the redemption of nations, Sun of Righteousness rising with healing in his wings. Oh! men and women with so many sorrows and sins and perplexities! if you want light of comfort, light of pardon, light of goodness, in earnest prayer through Christ, "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion!"

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two archipelagoes of stars must be

AN UNCHANGING GOD.

There had been no change in the stellar appearance in this herdsman's lifetime, and his father, a shepherd, reported to him that there had been no change in his lifetime. And these two clusters hang over the celestial arbor now, just as they were the first night that they shone on Edenic bowers, the same as when the Egyptians built the pyramids, from the top of which to watch them, the same as when the Chaldeans calculated the eclipses, the same as when Elihu, according to the book of Job, went out to study the aurora borealis; the same under Ptolemaic system and Copernican system, the same from Calisthenes to Pythagoras, and from Pythagoras to Herschel. Surely a changeless God must have fashioned the Pleiades and Orion. O, what an anodyne amid the ups and downs of life and the flux and reflux of the tides of prosperity, to know that we have a changeless God; the same yesterday, to-day and forever! Xerxes garlanded and knighted the steerman of his boat in the morning, and hanged him the evening of the same day. Fifty thousand people stood around the columns of the national capitol shouting themselves hoarse at the presidential inaugural and in four months so great were the antipathies that a ruffian's pistol in Washington depot expressed the sentiment of a great multitude. The world sits in its chariot and drives tandem and the horse ahead is Hosea and the horse behind is Anathema. Lord Gobbata, in King James' time, was applauded and had $35,000 a year, but was afterward execrated and lived on scraps stolen from the royal kitchen. Alexander the great, after death, remained unburied for thirty days because no one would do the honor of shoveling him under. The Duke of Wellington refused to have his iron fence mended because it had been broken by an infuriated populace in some hour of political excitement, and he left it in ruins that men might learn what a fickle thing is human favor. "But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting to them that fear Him, and His righteousness unto the children's children of such as keep His covenant and to those who remember His commandments to do them." This moment "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two beacons of the Oriental night sky must be

A GOD OF LOVE AND KINDLY WARNING.

The Pleiades, rising in mid-sky, said to all the herdsmen and shepherds and husbandmen: "Come out and enjoy the mild weather and cultivate your gardens and fields." Orion coming in winter warned them to prepare for tempest. All navigation was regulated by these two constellations. The one said to shipmaster and crew: "Hoist sail for the sea and gather merchandise from other lands." But Orion was the storm signal and said: "Reef sail, make things snug or put into harbor, for the hurricanes are getting their wings out." As the Pleiades were the sweet evangels of the of the spring, Orion was the warning prophet of the winter. O, now I get the best view of God I ever had! There are two kinds of sermons I never want to preach—the one that present God so kind, so indulgent, so lenient, so imbecile, that men may do what they will against Him, and fracture His every law and put the cry of their impertinence and rebellion under His throne, and while they are spitting in His face and stabbing at His heart He takes them up in His arms and kisses their infuriated brow and cheek, saying: "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." The other kind of sermon I never want to preach is the one that represents God as a fire and torture and thunder bolt, and with red-hot pitch-fork tossing the human race into paroxysms of infinite agony. The sermon that I am now preaching believes in a God of loving, kindly warning, the God of spring and winter, the God of the Pleiades and Orion. You must remember that the winter is just as important as the spring. Let one winter pass without frost to kill vegetation, and ice to bind the rivers, and snow to enrich our fields, and then you will have to enlarge your hospitals and your cemeteries. "A green Christmas makes a fat grave yard," was the old proverb. Storms to purify the air; thermometer at ten degrees above zero to tone up the system; December and January just as important as May and June. I tell you we need the storms of life as much as we do the sunshine. There are more men ruined by prosperity than by adversity. If we had our own way in life, before this we would have been impersonations of selfishness and worldliness and disgusting sin, and puffed up until we would have been like Julius Cæsar, who was made by sycophants to believe that he was divine, and the freckles on his face were as the stars of the firmament. One of the swiftest transatlantic voyages made last summer by the Etruria was because she had a stormy wind abaft, chasing her from New York to Liverpool. But to those going in opposite direction the storm was a baffeting and a hinderance. It is a bad thing to have a storm ahead pushing us back, but if we are God's children and aiming toward heaven the storms of life will only chase us the sooner into the harbor. I am so glad to believe that the monsoons and typhoons and mistrals and siroccos of land and sea are not unchained maniacs let loose upon the earth, but under divine supervision. I am so glad that the God of the Seven Stars is also the God of Orion. It was out of Dante's suffering came the sublime "Divina Commedia," and out of John Milton's blindness came "Paradise Lost," and out of miserable infidel attack came the "Bridgewater Treatise" in favor of Christianity, and out of David's exile came the songs of consolation, and out of the sufferings of Christ came the possibility of the world's redemption, and out of your bereavement, your persecution, your poverties, your misfortunes may yet come an eternal heaven.

Oh, what a mercy is it that in the text and all up and down the Bible God induces us to look out towards other worlds!

BIBLE ASTRONOMY

In Genesis, in Joshua, in Job, in the Psalms, in the Prophets, major and minor, in St. John's Apocalypse, practically saying: "Worlds! worlds! worlds! Get ready for them." We have a nice little world here that we stick to as though losing that we lose all. We are afraid of falling off this little raft of a world. We are afraid that some meteoric iconoclast will some night smash it, and we want everything to revolve around it, and we are disappointed when we find that it revolves around the sun, instead of the sun revolving around it. What a fuss we make about this little bit of a world—its existence only a short time between two spasms, the paroxysm by which it was hurled from chaos into order and the paroxysm of its demolition! And I am glad that so many texts call us to look off to other worlds, many of them larger and costlier and more resplendent. "Look there," says Job, "at Mazzaroth and Arcturus and his sons!" "Look there," there says St. John, "at the moon under Christ's feet!" "Look there," says Joshua, "at the sun standing still above Gibeon!" "Look there," days Moses, "at the sparkling firmamant." "Look there," says Amos, the herdsman, "at the seven stars and Orion!"

Don't let us be so sad about those who shove off from this world under Christly pilotage. Don't let us be so agitated about our own going off in this little barge or sloop or canal boat of a world to get on some great eastern of the heavens. Don't let us persist in wanting to stay in this barn, this shed, this out house of a world when all the king's palaces already occupied by many of our best friends are swinging wide open their gates to let us in. When I read: "In my Father's house are many mansions," I do not know but that each world is a room, and as many rooms as there are worlds, stellar stars, stellar galleries, stellar hallways, stellar windows, stellar domes. How our departed friends must pity us shut up in these cramped apartments, tired if we walk fifteen miles, when they some morning, by one stroke of wing, can make a circuit of the whole stellar system and be back in time for matins! Perhaps yonder twinkling constellation is the residence of the martyrs; that group of twelve luminaries is the celestial home of the apostles. Perhaps that steep of light is the dwelling-place of the angels, cherubic, seraphic, archangelic. A mansion with as many rooms as worlds and all their windows illuminated for festivity. O, how this widens and lifts and stimulates our expectation. How little it makes the present and how stupendous it makes the future! How it consoles us about our pious dead that instead of being boxed up and under the ground there have the range of as many rooms as they are worlds and welcome everywhere, for it is the Father's house, in which there are many mansions; Oh, Lord God of the Seven Stars and Orion, how can I endure the transport, the ecstacy of such a vision! I must obey my text and seek Him. I will seek Him. I seek Him now, for I call to mind that it is not the material universe that is most valuable, but the spiritual and that each of us has a soul worth more than all the worlds which the inspired herdsmen saw from his booth on the hills of Tekoa. I have studied it before, but the cathedral of Cologne, Germany, never impressed me as it did this summer. It is admittedly the grandest Gothic structure in the world; its foundation, laid in 1248, only two or three years ago completed. More than six hundred years in building. All Europe taxed for its construction. Its chapel of St. Agnes, with masterpieces of painting. Its spire, 511 feet into the heavens. Its stained glass, the chorus of all rich colors. Statues encircling the pillars and encircling all. Statues above, statues until sculpture can do no more, but faints and falls back against carved stalls and down on pavements over which the kings and queens of the earth have walked to confession. Nave, and aisles, and transept, and portals, combining the splendors of sunrise. Interlaced, interfoliated, inter-columned grandeur. As I stood outside looking at the double range of flying buttresses and the forest of pinnacles, higher and higher and higher, until I almost reeled from dizziness, I exclaimed: "Great doxology in stone! Frozen prayer of many nations!" But while standing there I saw a poor man enter and put down his pack and kneel beside his burden on the hard floor of that cathedral. And tears of deep emotion came into my eyes as I said to myself: "There is a soul worth more than all the material surroundings. That man will live after the last pinnacle has fallen and not one stone of all that cathedral glory shall remain uncrumbled. He is now a lazarus in rags and poverty and weariness, but immortal and a son of the Lord God Almighty; and the prayer he now offers, though amid many superstitions, I believe God will hear, and among the Apostles, whose sculptured forms stand in the surrounding niches, he will at last be lifted, and into the presence of that Christ whose sufferings are represented by the crucifix before which he bows; and be raised in due time out of all his poverties into the glorious home built for him and built for us by 'Him who maketh the Seven Stars and Orion.'"

CATARRH

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, is neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acting though the blood reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The latest seal ring has initials in facsimile of your handwriting.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic, and there was a constant dropping of mucous matter from the roof of my mouth. It extended to my throat, causing hoarseness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved.—Jas. W. Davidson, attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

The Daily Sentinel.

SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 1885.

A Methodist Muddle.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

PHILADELPHIA, November 13 —At a meeting of the board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, to-day, the following telegram was received by Dr. Hynett, the corresponding secretary:

CINCINNATI, November 13.

To A. J. Hynett, D. D., Philadelphia, Pa.:

The evening papers telephone us a sensational report about a defalcation in your society. Better wire us exact condition immediately.

(Signed) CRANSTON & STOWE.

Dr. Hynett read the telegram to the general committee and the following answer by telegraph was ordered to be made by unanimous vote:

Messrs. Cranston & Stowe Cincinnati.

The reports concerning a defalcation in the church extension, are utterly unfounded. The accouuts have been audited and fouud accurate.

Bishop S. M. MERRILL, Chairman,
S. J. MCCONNEL, Secretary.

Just before adjournment, secretary McConnell called the committees atteation to the fact that a communication from Mr. Price had been referred to the special committee yesterday and the committee were now ready to report. Bishop Harris called for the report, but before it could be given, a motion declaring it inexpedient to discuss the matter at this time was made. Dr. Hynett, the corresponding secretary opposed this, and said that the communication contained some grave charges against him and he was unwilling to rest under such imputations. He wanted the matter discussed, but finally agreed to postpone it for the present and the motion declaring that a discussion at the present moment would be inexpedient, prevailed. Dr. Hynett requested the members of the press not to make any reference to this communication, but Mr. Price, after the adjournment, distributed to the reporters printed copies of his communication.

[The main point made in said communication is that, while the German conferences collect and disburse their own funds, their tot l collections of $19,592 in 1883, $19,171 in 1884 were iucluded in the general report of receipts. to "swell the accounts" of the church, while in point of fact the cash was never received into or paid out of the treasury, and Mr. Price denounces this "method o' swelling the accounts" as "misleading," dishonest and "lowering the standard of business morals."— Telegraph Editor.)

A Bad Strike.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, November 13.—General Superintendent Jeffrey, of the Illinois Central railway, says two freight trains will be sent out this afternoon manned by officers of the company. One will be taken out by Assistant Superintendent Seymour and the assistant train master. Mr. Jeffrey said if the strikers would not be reasonable in their demands, he should at once put in new hands and start the trains under the police. The strikers scoff at the idea of the company's being able to do this and threaten trouble should any attempt be made.

Shortly after one o'clock a freight train, manned by the assistant superintendent and other officers of the the road, consisting of thirty-seven cars, loaded with freight for southern points, started ftom the yards. It had not proceeded far when it was boarded by a lot of strikers, who took complete possession of it, and ran it on a side track about a mile out.

A second train was started out about two p. m. but got no farther than 43rd street, where it was side tracked by the strikers as was the first. As far as known, no violence was used. At 3 p. m. Superintendent Beck telegraphed to the chief of Hyde Park police to send a detail of men to move the trains.

Mad Dairymen.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, November 13.—In the dairy department of the fat stock show at the exposition, considerable excitement and indignation was noticeable this afternoon, over the action of the State Board of Agriculture, in deciding to allow the "butterine" and "oleomargarine" manufacturers a space in the building for their exhibits. The butter men denounced this action and did all they could to have the order rescinded but without avail.

At a meeting of the dairymen, late this afternoon, a resolution was adopted, requesting the state board of agriculture to furnish the dairymen's association, within thirty days, all the information upon which it based its resolution allowing the butterine manufactures to enter the exhibits at the fat stock show. This information will be submitted to the executive committee of the dairymen's convention, which, it is expected, will adopt some measure that will clearly define the future course of the butter men in their relations with the manufacturers of butterine and oleomaragarine.

The Week of Prayer.

The following is the program for the observance of the week of prayer for young men by the Railroad Young Men's Christian association and other christian people in the city:

Saturday, 7 p. m., standard, address by Rev. S. F. Marks.

These services will be for all men, old or young, railroad or otherwise, and all are earnestly invited to attend.

Only a Step.

When catarrh has progressed to a certain extent, it is only a step to that fatal disease, consumption. If you have catarrh, even slightly, it is a terrible mistake to allow it to continue its course unchecked. If you will only read you will find conclusive reasons why you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, in the statements of many people who have been completely cured of this disease in its most severe forms. Send for book containing abundant evidence to C. I. Hood & Co., proprietors of Hoods Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.

How Women Differ From Men.

At least three men on the average jury are bound to disgrace with the rest just to show that they've got minds of their own; but there is no disagreement among the women as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." They are all unanimous in pronouncing it the best remedy in the world for all those chronic diseases, weakness and complaints peculiar to their sex. It transforms the pale haggard, dispirited women, into one of sparkling health, and the ringing laugh again "reigns supreme" in the happy household.

We Have Found Them.

We have found them, exclaimed an old gentleman to a friend who he met coming out of the postoffice yesterday. Who do you refer to. Why the Empire Mills Tea store, it is in that old Mayer house on Calhoun street and just see this nice gold watch I got in this can of tea for only a dollar.

What is more annoying than a sick stomach? Nichols' Bark and Iron is the only sure remedy. Its tonic and invigorating properties are unequaled. 28-4w

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. SKIN TORTURES —AND— BLOOD HUMORS

Humiliating eruptions, itching and burning skin tortures, loathsome sore, and every species of itching, scaly, pimply, inher ted scrofulous and contagious diseases of the blood, skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by Cuticura, the great skin cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, externally, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflictrd since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
Broad Brook, Conn.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your Cuticura Remedies, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

Cuticura stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the Cuticura Soap. Have had an unsually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the Cuticura Remedies proved satisfactory.

Lowell Extra Super Carpets.

We are the sole agents in Fort Wayne of the manufacturers of these justly celebrated Carpets—admitted by all carpet experts to be the best Ingrain Carpets manufactured. Although they cost us five cents a yard more than other makes of Extra Super Ingrains, our price will be the same as others charge for goods of no established reputation.

Lowell Carpets do not spot or fade like other makes.

They are handsomer in design than others.

Tney are made of better wool, and so wear much longer.

As we are the manufacturer's agent we receive the new patterns from three to six months earlier than stores that have to buy these goods at second hand.

Do not be gulled by stores which when you ask for Lowells will throw you down one or two or three pieces of these goods in styles three or four years old, and offer them at a particularty low price.

Come direct to us where you can choose from the entire line of the handsomest patterns.

We have recen'ly received a full car load of Brussels Carpets, in exquisitely handsome styles, which we have placed on sale at 65c, 75c, 85c, 90c and $1.

Also recently added to our stock some very beautiful design in Body Brussels and Velvets.

EPITHELIOMA!

OR SKIN CANCER.

For seven years I suffered with a cancer on my face. All the simple remedies were applied to alleviate the pain, but the place continued to grow, finally extending into my nose, from which came a yellowish discharge very offensive in character. It was also inflamed, and annoyed me a great deal. About eight months ago I was in Atlanta, at the house of a friend, who so strongly recomended the use of Swift's Specific that I determined to make an effort to procure it. In this I was successful, and began its use. The influence of the medicine at first was to somewhat aggravate the sore; but soon the inflammation was allayed, and I began to improve after the first few bottles. My general health has greatly improved. I am stronger, and able to do any kind of work. The cancer on my face began to decrease and the ulcer to heal, until there is not a vestige of it left—only a little scar marks the place where it had been. I am ready to answer all questions relative to this cure.

MRS. JOICIE A. MCDONALD,
Atlanta, Ga., August 11, 1885.

I have had a cancer on my face for some years, extending from one cheek bone across the nose to the other,. It has given me great deal of pain, at times burning and itching to such an extent that it was almost unbearable. I commenced using Swift's Specific in May, 1885, and have used eight bottles. It has given the greatest relief by removing the inflammation and restoring my general health.

W. BARNES.
Knoxville, Iowa, Sept. 8, 1885.

For many years I was a sufferer with cancer of the nose, and having been cured by the use of S. S. S., I feel constrained by a sense of duty to suffering humanity to make this statement of my case. With the 14th bottle the cancer began to heal rapidly and soon disappeared, and for several months there has been no appearance of a sore of any kind on my nose or face, neither is my nose at all tender to the touch. I have taken about two dozen bottles S. S. S., and am soundly cured, and I know that S. S. S. effected the cure after every known remedy was tried and had failed.

ROBERT SMEDLEY.
Fort Gaines, Ga., May 1, 1885.

I had heard of the wonderful cures of Swift's Specific, and resolved to try it. I commenced taking it in April, 1884. My general health was much improved, yet the cancer which was in my breast continued to grow slowly but surely. The bunch grew and became quite heavy. I felt that I must either have it cut or die. But it commenced discharging quantities of almost black, thick blood. It continued healing around the edges until February, when it was entirely healed up and well. BETTY WOOD.
Cochesett, Plymouth co., Mass., July 13, 1885.

Swift's Specific is entirely vegetable, and seems to cure cancers by forcing out the impurities from the blood.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York board of health estimates that 30,000 lives have been destroyed by the explosive qualities of petroleum. If every household would adopt the White Seal oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the wick, will not smoke, emits no offensive odor, and prevents the breaking of chimneys.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is as light in color as pure spring water. It gives a strong steady light, and burns much longer than common oils.

If the White Seal Burning Oil is not sold in your vicinity, send your order direct to us for a barrel or a case containing two neat five gallon cans.

Two cent postage resulted in a deficiency of $9,756,345 for the year ending with June. Indiana fell behind $467,000 Both domestic and international money orders decreased greatly in volume.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger goes to Anderson, Ind., to-morrow to preach and administer confirmation. The parish at Anderson is in charge of Rev. F. C. Weichman, formerly of Warsaw and quite well known here.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad is building a spur track from Austin station, near Kalamazoo, to the new summer resort grounds at Long lake, where they will erect a good hotel in readiness for next season.

The superior court was not in session to-day. Next Tuesday Judge Hench will call the jury. One year ago yesterday Judge Hench assumed judicial robes and his work in the court has certainly been remarkably able and thorough.

W. C. Ditton, clerk in Trainmaster Coffinberry's office, at Butler, in addition to his other duties, has become an adept with the type writer, and is also learning phonography. Mr. Ditton was formerly check clerk in the Wabash yard office at Fort Wayne.

Roadmaster Adams, of the second district, will also have charge of the third and fourth districts of the Wabash road, instead of Roadmaster F. Sullivan. This change was made necessary by the Wabash losing control, temporarily, of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago division.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Cloudy weather and occasional snows, westerly winds, stationary temperature in western portions, slowly rising temperature in eastern portions.

Con Schuler was sworn in as mail carrier for the Eighth ward to-day. Mr. Schuler was not backed by wealth or men of high social position, but the gallant Eighth ward first voters who work in stores, shops, factories and this sort of recognition is a compliment to Postmaster Kaough.

"At the parlors of the Commercial hotel, last evening, a marriage took place, the contracting parties having been a couple of young people from Zanesville, Allen county. The groom's name was Weaver, and the officiating clergyman was Rev. Lovett, of Fort Wayne," says the Huntington Herald.

In the supreme court of this state, a finish has been reached in a legal contest of seven or eight years, in the case of Wm. Lamon, of Allen county, vs. W. H. Meech, of Huntington. The original hearing of the case was in the Grant county circuit court, and the jury rendered the remarkable judgment of $2,000 against Meech. Meech appealed to the supreme court, which revised the finding of the lower court giving him judgment for the costs. Motion for rehearing was then made by Lamon's attorney, Judas Kenner, but was denied. This closes the case in favor of Meech.

Mrs. Finis Cartwright is entertaining her friend, Miss Maggie Bancroft, of Delphos.

Miss Emma Cottingham has returned from a visit to her old home at Greenville, Ohio.

There is a foot of snow at Kalamazoo and the Grand Rapids pay car came in covered with snow.

Fourteen car loads of emigrants passed through the city last night, en route west over the Pittsburg road.

John Seaman, a Nickel Plate switchman, had his right shoulder smashed yesterday, while coupling cars,

Mr. D. N. Foster has put a quietus on a Journal writer, who unjustly criticises the Local Electric Light company. This same newspaper publishes a boycott sheet to injure a hundred merchants.

Harry Metzgar and O. B. Wiley are at Chicago. Through the courtesy of J. C. Beeks and Tom Keefe, of the Chicago Times, they secured tickets of admission to the hanging of the three Italians there to-day.

"Night Yardmaster Cook has returned from Kansas and resumed his position here. Newt. had a tempting offer to remain in the west, but wisely concluded that his best prospects are here," says the Andrews Express.

The Telephone exchange at Wabash, will, in all probability, be abandoned within the next three months. The number of subscribers has dwindled from eighty-eight to sixteen, five of the latter number being dead-heads.

Capt. Hugh M. Deihl has a list of jewelry stolen from an Auburn man, who says he will pay more for their return than any pawnbroker will give. Quite a number of robberies are reported from suburban villages. The craze may come here soon.

The funeral of Mrs. Wm. Schaper occurs to-morrow afternoon at 1:30 from her home in the south end of the city and at 2 o'clock from the Lutheran church in the Seventh ward. Mrs. Schaper was a sister of Mrs. Wm. Meyer and mother of Mrs. Gust Franke.

"W. F. Rawles, an attorney of Fort Wayne, and an old-time acquaintance and exceedingly pleasant young man, was in the city on business connected with the Little River ditch, this morning. We enjoyed a brief but pleasant call from him," says the Huntington Herald.

Florence Sullivan, of Peru, who was injured in the Wabash wreck near La-Porte several weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to be out, but has not yet returned to his work. All the passengers injured in the accident have recovered, and the road has settled the claim of each one. In this way many long and tedious damage suits were prevented.

"V. J. Card, of Warsaw, is traveling through the northern part of this county securing the right of way for a trunk line railroad, which, he says, is to be built next year. The projected route is an air line from Pittsburg to Omaha, and from Fort Wayne west, the right of way of the Fort Wayne, Peoria and Galesburg road will be used," says a Wabash correspondent.

Mrs. Layah Burrakat, of Syria, an escaped refugee from Egypt, will tell the story of her life in the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. This will be a union service of the three Presbyterian churches, though all are cordially invited to attend. Dr. Tuttle, of the Wabash college, remarked to a SENTINEL representative a short time ago that he considered this lady one of the finest lady talkers in America.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana have just turned out of their shops at Grand Rapids an elegant open excursion passenger car for use in their northern resort business next season. It is constructed on the same plan as the open cars, is beautifully decorated, and will be a pleasant addition to their excursion equipment. It will be put in the engine house at Big Rapids during the winter, and will be started on its trips next spring.

Adjutant General Koontz has gone to Dayton to see the managers of the soldiers home there regarding the admission of disabled and friendless soldiers, who have no means of support. Recently several of them who live in this state have applied for admission to the home, but have been refused, probably because there is no room for them. General Koontz has a nnumber of applications from persons who are really deserving, but does not know what to do with them.

Mock, Nutter and Sparks have returned. Miller and Shoup are still in the wilderness.

The Fort Wayne Gazette says: "All the printers who were in the late strike have either left the city or have secured positions in other offices. The Boycotter is still being printed by the Fort Wayne Journal company and is being encouraged by a queer clothing house. The object of the Boycotter is to injure the business of the Gazette and SENTINEL and the clothing business of the dealers who advertise in the Gazette and SENTINEL."

Charles G. Deming, Albert Miller and Ellen McLaughlan were at police court this morning booked as drunkards. Miller has lost one arm and was escorted out of the city. So was Ellen as she is a visitor and the mayor had no disposition to make them county boarders. Deming is a Huntington man and was howling drunk last night. He just got out of jail, where he has been confined at intervals since he came here to see Forepaugh's circus. Deming is a tough man and two policemen locked him up.

The Mestayer tourists will play at the Academy to-night. The only plot to be discovered is that a party of tourists beguile the tedium of a railway journey across the continent each in a way peculiar to himself, and they manage to have more fun than the liveliest box of monkeys ever seen. The conductor and porter are simply immense. Interspersed throughout the trip are numerous bits of bright, pleasing, catchy music, in solo, quartet and chorus. Arthur Milton and Miss Lillian Langford in their solos are great. These words are from an exchange and as the Academy prices are popular they will have a crowd.

It is a fact too well known to be denied, that if it was not fou Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup hotel proprietors in Florida would put their rates up to $10 per day.

The Evansville Bond Cases.

The Evansville city council has passed a resolution instructing its attorneys to appeal from Judge Wood's decision, holding that the $1,500,000 of bonds issued by the city to be valid obligations, to the supreme court of the United States in all the cases. This will delay a final decision for several years, and will pile up the costs and attorneys' fees enormously, but the learned exponents of the law will probably not object to this.

Danger from Catarrh

That exceedingly disagreeable and very prevalent disease, catarrh, is caused by scrofulous taint in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by its powerful purifying and vitalizing action upon the blood, speedily removes the cause, and thus effects a radical and permanent cure of catarrh. Those who suffer from its varied symptoms—uncomfortable flow from the nose, offensive breath, ringing and bursting noises in the ears, swelling of the soft parts of the throat, nervous prostration, etc.—should take Hood's Sarsaparilla and be cured.

Serious consequences are liable to ensue if catarrh is not attended to in season. The disease frequently destroys the sense of smell and often developes into bronchitis or pulmonary consumption. Undoubtedly many cases of consumption originate in catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh and has even effected remarkable cures of consumption itself, in its early stages. A book containing statements of many cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, will be sent free to all who send address to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Best Medicine

"I have suffered with catarrh in my head for years, and paid out hundreds of dollars for medicines, but have heretofore received only temporary relief. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and now my catarrh is nearly cured, the weakness of my body is all gone, my appetite is good—in fact, I feel like another person. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I have ever taken." MRS. A. CUNNINGHAM, Providence, R. I.

Catarrh and Impure Blood

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

"I suffered three years with catarrh, and my general health was poor in consequence. When I took Hood's Sarsaparilla I found I had the right remedy. The catarrh is yielding, as Hood's Sarsaparilla is cleansing my blood, and the general tone of my system is improving." FRANK WASHBURN, Rochester, N. Y.

DEATH.

Three Italians Swung into Eternity.

They Face Death Without the Slightest Fear.

A History of the Terrible Crime For Which They Were Hung.

TRIPPLE HANGING.

Execution of the Italian Murderers at Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Gelardi, Azari and Sylvestri, three Italian murderers who are to be hanged at noon to-day, for the murder of their fellow countryman Filippo Caruso, passed a quet night. As early as 9 a. m., there was a large crowd assembled in the vicinity of the county jail.

GONE TO GLORY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The execution of Azari, Silvestri and Gelardi took place at noon to-day in the county jail.

The drop fell at precisely 12:09 o'clock. At 11:46 the condemned men with their spiritual advisers were taken to the jail library where their death warrants were read and the march to the scaffold followed. On arriving at the gallows the condemned men were at once placed in the proper position on the trap, side by side. They all repeated in Italian, their prayers for the dying as first pronounced by the priests. The caps and nooses were then adjusted and the trap was sprung.

Silvestri and Gelardi died at once, their necks being broken. A more fearful death was decreed for Azzaro. The noose slipped when the drop stretched the rope and the knot lodged under his chin. His convulsive struggles were terrific to see. He was slowly strangling. For full four minutes the twitching lasted. It was seven minutes before his pulse ceased to beat.

HISTORY OF THE CRIME.

The crime for which the dread sentence of the law will be to-day enforced, was one which for coolly plotted design and diabolism has never been equalled in the criminal annals of Chicago. In the afternoon of the first of May, of the present year, a trunk was put off a train at Pittsburg, Pa., which emitted such an offensive, nauseating stench that the suspicions of the railroad officials were aroused and the coroner was called upon to investigate. The trunk was opened and in it was found a mass of human flesh packed and jammed into its narrow confines with cold blooded brutality. The legs had been broken and tied tightly to the trunk. The arms also were tightly lashed down and the body was wrenched and distorted as though the merciless brutes had stamped it down with their boots into the chest. About the throat was the livid welt of a cord, and there were numerous abrasions where the face had scraped along the side of the trunk. Save the fact that the trunk and its contents had been shipped from Chicago, there was absolutely not the ghost of clue to the inhuman wretches whose crime had been brought to light. The case was given in charge of Detective Bonfield, and one slender thread, and then another was followed up until the tangled skein was straightened out. Diligent search unearthed the store where the trunk had been purchased. An enterprising reporter traced its movements on the morning of the purchase to 74 Tilden street, right in the heart of the Italian colony. Twelve hours afterwards the chain of evidence was strong enough to justify the arrest of fifteen natives of the sunny clime. None of them could speak a word of English, nor were they familiar with the ways of this country. Before they had been under arrest a day all were eager to tell the revolting story of the crime, but of the host of confessions sufficient evidence was obtained to warrant the framing of indictments against the three condemned men and Antonio Mecuvio and Aquaiza Bova. The trials took place about six weeks ago and lasted over a week.

The accused were defended by Mr. Baumann a colored lawyer, and Miss Kate W. Kane. The trial was conducted with fairness and impartiality. Bova and Mecuvio were acquitted, and their three companions in the dock were convicted and sentenced to death.

The was the story as brought out at the trial. The unfortunate wretch whose little hand of ready cash aroused the [illegible] of his Italian mates was

FILIPO CARUSSO.

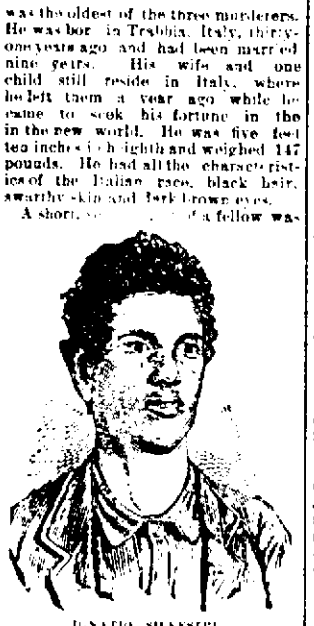

Carusso was a fruit peddler of some twenty-eight years. Industrious and economical and of frugal habits, he had succeeded in saving about $300. This became known to his murderers. To them it represented a princely fortune, and they planned the murder in order to obtain the money. For two weeks they were occupied in laying the wires. Corusso, with the money in his pocket, on his way to the suburbs to find an available point to set up in business, dropped at ten o'clock in the morning of April 30th, into the room occupied by the murderers. Silvestri was shaving his mates, and Carusso took his turn in the chair. While he was being lathered by Silvestri, Gilandi sneaked stealthily behind the poor devil deftly slipped a noose over his head and Silvestri and Azzari pulled at the rope, while Gilandi jammed a shaving brush down the victim's throat in order to prevent an outcry. No sooner was the victim dead than they ransacked his room, secured the money, went out and bought a trunk and finished their devilish cruelty by packing the body in it and shipping it to Pittsburg. Mecuvio came in while the murder was being done and stood guard at the door. His acquittal was due to his turning state's evidence. Bova came in after the murder and his only crime [illegible] ing quiet.

was the oldest of the three murderers. He was born in Trobbia, Italy, thirty-one years ago and had been married nine years. His wife and one child still reside in Italy, where he left them a year ago while he came to seek his fortune in the in the new world. He was five feet ten inches in height and weighed 147 pounds. He had all the characteristics of the Italian race, black hair, swarthy skin and dark brown eyes.

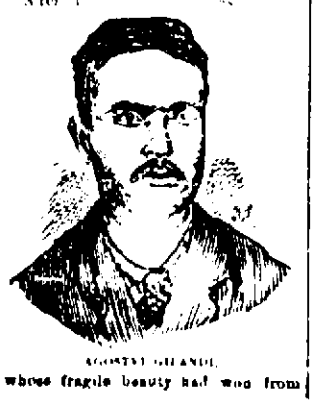

A short [illegible] of a fellow was

DONATIO SILVESTRI.

He was a native of Azzari and came to this country a year ago, leaving behind him a wife who has recently given birth to a child. He was five feet 6½ inches tall, weighed 141 pounds, had curly, dark brown hair, dark eyes and complexion of his race, but had been Americanized to the extent of having "Chicago" and "America" pricked on his arm in India ink.

A re[illegible]

whose fragile beauty had won from his countrymen the proud distinction of the pet name, "the dude." He had become infatuated with the wife of one of the Italian colony in the house where the murder occured, and if the whole truth were known it would probably show that the woman was the instigator of the crime. Gilandi captured the lion's share of the cash and promptly started for Italy in company with his mistress. The pair however were overhauled in New York. Gilandi stood five feet eight, weight 143 pounds and was twenty-three years old. He was born in Terlini Merrese, province of Palermo, Italy, where he has an 18 year old wife and a babe of 13 months.

CINDERS.

The Destructive Fire at Galveston.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—The weather to-day is spring-like and warm, business generally resumed and stores open, but the city has a holiday air about it. People are moving about with very sad faces, and thousands constantly visit the burnt district. Small smouldering fires are still seen here and there. The fire department are tearing down dangerous chimneys and clearing the streets. The relief committees are at work and the homeless families are being sheltered.

The hotels are filled with homeless people and the citizens' committee is now at work apportioning families to rooms and places vacated for their use. Every vehicle in the city is at work carrying strewn furniture to secure places. Thousands of people haunt the burned district looking among the smoking ruins for valuables, keepsakes or jewelry, hoping to find something left, but all is blank and barren as a desert.

A meeting of the citizens is now in progress at Colton Exchange, to provide immediate relief to the poorer victims. Already the rich men of the city and the well-to-do, and even those who have lost their elegant mansions have determined to provide for the poorer people and Galveston will probably make no appeal to the outside world.

With the exception of half a dozen grocery stores and the iron and car repairing foundry, where the fire started, no places of business were destroyed. Telegrams of sympathy and offers of aid are already pouring in from the sister cities in Texas.

Something over 400 hundred houses were burned, and it is estimated by the relief committee that about 1,000 families were rendered homeless, the great majority of whom (especially the poorer ones) lost everything, as, in the poorer districts, they had little or no time to move furniture, while the wealthier victims moved valuable pictures and effects. Several of the finest houses, however, were burned without a single article being saved, so confident were the occupants that the fire would pass by them. The meeting at the Cotton Exchange this afternoon, was largely attended by the business men, who at once set about providing relief for the homeless and suffering. A general relief committee of twenty-seven prominent citizens was organized, with W. L. Moody president of the Cotton Exchange as chairman. A finance committee of five, with Col. Wm. H. Sinclair as chairman, was named by the original committee. Besides these committees there are sub-committees for the various sections of the burned district. Contributions are pouring in from all parts of the city. At the citizens meeting at the cotton exchange $10,500 was subscribed by the business men. Among the largest subscribers are Bali Hutchins & Co., bankers, $1,000; P. L. Willis & Co., wholesale druggists, $1,000; L. & H. Blum, $500; Sampson & Heidenheimer $500; W. L. Moody $500; J. D. Rogers & Co., $500; Island City savings bank, $500 and the Geo B. [illegible] charity fund $1,000. Capt. Jas B. Eads, the celebrated engineer, telegraphs $100 from St. Louis; Kingman & Co., cotton buyers, of Houston, send $500. The following telegram was read at 8 p. m.:

NEW YORK, November 13.

To Hon. Robert L. Fulton, Mayor, Galveston, Texas:

I am in just in receipt of dispatches with an account of the terrible conflagration that has visited your beautiful city. Please accept my deep sympathy in your misfortune. I only hope the loss is overestimated. You may draw on me at sight for $5,000, to be used under the direction of a relief committee, or otherwise, at your discretion, to relieve the needy.

(Signed) JAY GOULD.

It cannot be said what the loss will be. The best posted citizens estimate the loss at fully $2,000,000, while many who claim to have figured on the matter put it as high as $2,500,000.

The total insurance is $980,000, largely in foreign companies.

A Passenger Wreck at Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. The incoming New York express on the Chicago and Atlantic railway, was thrown from the track just inside the city limits, about 9 o'clock this morning. None of the passengers were injured excepting two ladies, who were on their way to Denver. They were badly bruised. The engine and baggage car were badly wrecked. The cause of the accident is unknown.

King Milan at War with Bulgaria.

His Troops March on Sofia in Three Divisions.

A Skirmish on the Border and General European War not at All Improbable.

WAR DECLARED

Between Servia and Bulgaria.

By Cable to The Sentinel.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Belgrade says it is officially announced that the Bulgarians having attacked Servia at Vessin King Milan accepts the act as a declaration of war. Peace, therefore, is ended. At 6 o'clock this morning King Milan has assumed command of the Servian army and active operations will be begun at once.

The Servian army has commenced moving forward and an advance on Sofia is anticipated. The troops display much enthusiasm.

The Servian advance, marching from Pirot direct on Sofia, will probably have the first decisive battle of the war early to-morrow, when they are expected to reach a difficult and rocky gorge of the Dragoman defile, where a number of Bulgarian batallions have been concentrated and where a stand may be made.

BULGARIA DECLARES.

SOFIA, Nov. 14.—The following has just been received by the government: "The Servians having invaded Bulgaria to-day near Tsaribrad, before declaring war, Bulgaria has decided to uphold her national cause by all means at her disposal. Intense excitement prevails and active preparations are being made to defend the city. A number of heavy guns are being mounted in available positions commanding the different roads leading to the city.

BELGRADE, Nov. 14.—The Servian army is marching in three divisions on Sofia. General Harvatavitch commands the left wing, General Leshyeania the right, and King Milan, the centre. The whole force is expected to concentrate at Sofia, on November 22. The roads are covered with snow, retarding the progress of the army.

Dispatches from the front state that a sharp fight has occurred between the advance guards of the Servian and Bulgarian armies on the road between Trn and Blania. The Bulgarians retired.

SERVIA AND BULGARIA.

Servia and Bulgaria adjoin Turkey proper and are tributary to that country although given independence by the powers. King Milan occupies the Servian throne and Prince Alexander presides over the destinies of Bulgaria. The trouble arose from the absorption of Roumelia by Bulgaria some time ago, and which the European powers are now striving to settle. Bulgaria was the scene of the Turko-Russa war and it is not improbable that this war may lead Russia, Turkey, Greece, England, Germany and possibly France and Austria into the controversy.

BERLIN, November 13.—The five German-Americans whose expulsion from the Island of Fahr, was recently ordered by the German government, were expelled under the law of 1841, which has been revived and which does not allow foreigners to settle or even reside temporarily at that place unless the local authorities permit them.

CALCUTTA, November 13. Lord Dufferin, viceroy of India, has ordered General Pendergrast, commanding the Burmah expedition, to prepare to invade Burmah, forthwith, and proceed with all haste to capture Mandolay. The British forces will now cross the the frontier immediately.

Recent dispatches from Rangoon state that the inhabitants of districts of British Burmah where no large garrisons are maintained are greatly alarmed and report that King Thobaw has subsidized 15,000 Dacoits to cross the frontier and begin plundering and murdering at the first note of war. The Dacoits are robbers, who work in large gangs and are noted for their bold exploits. Having neither baggage nor commissariat they were at marvellous speed and it will be hard for the British troops to catch them.

RANGOON, November 13.—The British will mass at Thayetmyo and thence make an attack on Minhla, where the Burmah troops are arriving.

LONDON, November 13.—The United States government has asked the German and Spanish governments to protect American missions on the Caroline Islands.

Damages Found.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—A special from Jackson says that in the United States court yesterday a jury in the case of the United States vs. Dennis Scarbough, of Clark county, for cutting timber on the government land, returned a verdict against the defendant for $5,000.

A Defaulter Captured.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

CHOTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 14.—The postoffice inspectors in this city have effected the capture of Will B. Jackson the defaulting assistant postmaster of Americus, Georgia. He was captured at Los Angeles, Cal.

The Strike Ends.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. The strike on the Illinois Central railway is apparently at an end, all the brakemen returning to work this morning. The men are waiting anxiously for the result of the conference which is to be held by general superintendents of freight of the different roads.

Business Failure.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—C. T. Pickard & Co., importers of jewelry, have failed, with liabilities of $60,000.

Another Shoe Factory Strike.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

BRACKTON, Mas. Nov. 14.—The manufacturers' price list was posted yesterday in the factory of C. F. Parker and immediately the lasters went out. A member of the advisory board stated the men had not been ordered out and he could not give a reason for their leaving the factory. If these men remain out it is probable a general strike will be inaugurated Monday, which will throw 5,000 men out of work.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 14.—Reports received at the army headquarters state that the Piegans are out from their reservation in Wyoming, on another marauding tour. General Howard has given discretionary orders to the commander of Fort McKinney.

Railroad Rattle.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

CHATANOOGA, Tenn., November 13. —A dispatch to the Times from Huntsville, Alabama, says the stockholders of the Memphis & Charleston railway, have decided to issue addditional stock, amounting to two and a quarter million of dollars, to pay off certain indebtedness and build a road from Stevenson, Alabama, to Chattanooga, a distance of forty miles.

OTTAWA, November 13.—At a meeting of the International Railway company, held at Sherbrooke, to-day, the old board of directors retired, and Duncan McIntyre, W. C. VanHorne and the other Canada Pacific directors were elected in their places. It is reported that the International company has become a part of the Canada Pacific.

PITTSBURG, November 13.—A company has been formed, composed mostly of Pittsburg capitalists for the purpose of building a railroad across the state of Kentucky, into Tennessee. The line of the proposed road was surveyed from Evansville, Indiana, down through DeKoyen, Ky., to Jackson, Tenn. It is to be called the Ohio Valley railroad, and extends in a southwesterly direction, opening up a portion of country the richest in mineral and agricultural products, of any part of the state. This line will be two hundred miles in length and the cost of building will not exceed $2,000,000.

YOUNG IS SANE.

His Sentence is Imprisonment for Life.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

SYCAMORE, Ill., Nov. 14.—Young, the confessed murderer of H. P. Allen, was yesterday brought before Judge Killom and a jury summoned to try his sanity. Young's statements, made at different times, were read in court. His last statement was a long history of his life and adventures, with tirades against religion and religious training, given at reformatory institutions. After the reading, several medical men and prison authorities testified that they found no trace of insanity in the prisoner and the jury returned a verdict finding him sane. Judge Killom asked Young if he still persisted in his plea of guilty, and, upon being answered in the affirmative, sentenced him to imprisonment for life. It is thought in case the governor does not pardon Wm. Thomas, who has served five years of a seventeen-year sentence for this crime, his friends will get his case before the courts on a writ of habeas corpus.

One bottle of Athlophoros relieved my wife who has rheumatism for over four years from all pain, gave her a good appetite and in fact made a strong woman out of a feeble one. I can recommend it. A. B. Townley, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A LEVEL-HEADED NEWSDEALER.

Newsdealers are as a class popularly supposed to know a good thing when they see it, and are ever on the lookout for that which will interest and please the public. In a humble way Edison was once a newsdealer, having sold papers on railroads. Among newsdealers who have a keen eye to business and to everything that can be of benefit is Mr. G. W. Dove, of Vincennes, Ind., whose place of business is at No. 114 [illegible] street. Mr. Dove was recently afflicted with rheumatism, but quickly cured himself by using Athlophoros. This is what he says about it:

"Athlophoros is a good medicine and it did for me all that I could ask. At the time when I began using it I was sadly afflicted with rheumatism. I was in a helpless state and suffered untold pain, not being able to get out of bed or to be moved without enduring the greatest agony. I had read some time before of the wonderful cures of people effected by Athlophoros, and at the time tried to buy it at the drug stores, but could not find any. As I was determined to try it I sent to the company for some."

"Did it act quickly upon you?"

"I felt the effects almost immediately. After I had taken a few doses the pain subsided. The medicine seemed to go directly where the pain was."

"Have you had any return of the pain?"

"I have not suffered any to speak of since. I used only three bottles and consider it the best medicine for rheumatism that I know of. I recommended it to a gentleman in St. Louis who had his mother use some and was very much pleased with the result. I have recommended it to different persons, and in every instance where it was used it gave entire satisfaction."

J. A. Wilson, the well-known photographer, 6 and 8 Main St., New Albany, tells an equally interesting story of how Athlophoros cured him of rheumatism:

"I only used one bottle," he says. "The rheumatism was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a great deal, when a friend coming into my gallery one morning asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. Said my friend: 'I was reading of a medicine that is for the cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. It struck me forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to.' When I asked him what it was he said the name was Athlophoros. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago and have not had a pain or an ache from rheumatism since."

From Greencastle, Ind., D. L. Southard has this to say of what Athlophoros did for him:

"When Bishop Bowman brought me a bottle of Athlophoros I was suffering greatly from rheumatism and could scarcely move. I began taking the medicine on Thursday morning. At 9 P. M. I went to sleep and slept until 6 o'clock Friday morning, when I got up and said to my wife: 'Dear, look here, I am well.' At the first I was so much better that I stopped using the medicine and the rheumatism came back. The second attack was not stopped so easily, but still in double the time the Athlophoros removed the pain. The medicine had no unpleasant effect, but seemed to quiet, soothe and give relief."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall street, New York.

BIBLE ASTRONOMY.

Wonderful Lessons it Teaches—Beauties of the Heavens and the Everlasting Beyond.

A Haven of Eternal Rest for the Believers of the Gospel,

And Those Who Seek the Maker of the Pleiades and Orion.

The music at the Brooklyn tabernacle Sunday morning, by Prof. Henry Eyre Brown, was more than usually excellent. It consisted of the organ solo Satz, No. 1, in C minor, by Thiele. The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., expounded the twentieth chapter of the First Book of Samuel, where it is told how David's wife deceived her husband's enemies by an effigy. The preacher showed that the poorest way to get out of trouble was to lie out. The opening hymn was:

> "Sun of my soul, thou Savior dear,
> It is not night if Thou art near."

The subject of the sermon was: "The Pleiades and Orion," and the text was from Amos v., 8: "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion." Following is Dr. Talmage's sermon in full:

A country farmer wrote this text—Amos of Tekoa. He plowed the earth and threshed the grain by a new threshing machine just invented, as formerly the cattle trod out the grain. He gathered the fruit of the sycamore tree, and scarified it with an iron comb just before it was getting ripe, as it was necessary and customary in that way to take away from it the bitterness. He was the son of a poor shepherd, and stuttered; but before the stammering rustic the Philistines and Syrians and Phoenicians and Moabites and Ammonites and Edomites and Israelites trembled. Moses was a law giver, Daniel was a prince, Isaiah a courtier and David a king; but Amos, the author of my text, was a peasant, and, as might be supposed, nearly all the parallelisms are pastoral, his prophecy full of the odor of new-mown hay and the rattle of locusts and the rumble of carts with sheaves and the roar of wild beasts devouring the flock, while the shepherd came out in their defense. He watched the herd by day and by night, inhabited a booth made out of bushes, so that through these branches he could see the stars all night long, and was more familiar with them than we who have tight roofs to our houses and hardly ever see the stars except among the tall brick chimneys of the great towns. But at seasons of the year when the herds were in special danger he would stay out in the open field all through the darkness, his only shelter the curtain of the night, heaven with the stellar embroideries and silver tassels of lunar light.

What a life of solitude, all alone with his herds! Poor Amos! And at 12 o'clock at night, hark to the wolf's bark, and the lion's roar, and the bear's growl, and the owl's tu-whit-tu-whoo, and the serpent's hiss, as he unwittingly steps too near while moving through the thickets! So Amos, like other herdsmen, got the habit of studying the map of the heavens, because it was so much of the time spread out before him. He noticed some stars advancing and others receding. He associated their dawn and setting with certain seasons of the year. He had a poetic nature, and he read night by night, and month by month, and year by year, the poem of the constellations, divinely rhythmic.

But two rosettes of stars especially attracted his attention while seated or the ground or lying on his back under the open scroll of the midnight heavens.

THE PLEIADES, OR SEVEN STARS, AND ORION.

The former group this rustic prophet associated with the spring, as it arises about the first of May. The latter he associated with the winter, as it comes to the meridian in January. The Pleiades, or Seven stars, connected with all sweetness and joy; Orion, the herald of the tempest. The ancients were the more [illegible] study the physiognomy and juxtaposition of the heavenly bodies, because they thought they had a special influence upon the earth, and perhaps they [illegible]. If the moon every few hours [illegible] lifts down the tides of the Atlantic ocean, and the electric storms of [illegible], by all scientific admission, affected the earth, why not the stars have proportionate effect? And there are some things which make me think that it may not have been all superstition [illegible] connected the movement and appearance of the heavenly bodies with great moral events on earth. Did not a meteor [illegible] celestic errand on the first Christmas night and designate the rough cradle of our Lord? Did not the stars in their courses fight against Sisera? Was it merely a coincidence that before the destruction of Jerusalem the moon was eclipsed for twelve consecutive nights? Did it merely happen so that a new star appeared in constellation Cassiopeia and then disappeared just before King Charles IX. of France, who was responsible for St. Bartholomew massacre, died? Was it without significance that in the days of Roman Emperor Justinian war and famine were preceded by the dimness of the sun, which for nearly a year gave no more light than the moon, although there were no clouds to obscure it? Astrology, after all, may have been something more than a [illegible] Now, [illegible] Amos [illegible] the text, having heard the [illegible] of the stars, put down his [illegible] staff of the herdsman, and [illegible] his own hand at [illegible] and [illegible] the people [illegible] the recreant people of his time to return to God, saying: "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

This command, which Amos gave 785 years B. C., is just as appropriate for us 1885 A. D.

In the first place, Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made the Pleiades and Orion must be

THE GOD OF ORDER.

It was not so much a star here and a star there that impressed the inspired herdsman, but seven in one group and four in the other group. He saw that night after night and season after season and decade after decade they had kept step of light, each one in its own place, a sisterhood never clashing and never contesting precedence. From the time Hesiod called the Pleiades the "seven daughters of Atlas," and Virgil wrote in his "Eneid" of "Stormy Orion," until now, they have observed the order established for their coming and going; order written not in manuscript that may be pigeon-holed, but with the hand of the Almighty on the dome of the sky, so that all nations may read it. Order. Persistent order. Sublime order. Omnipotent order. What a sedative to you and me to whom communities and nations sometimes seem going pell mell, and the world ruled by some fiend at hap-hazard, and in all directions mal-administration! The God who keeps seven worlds in right circuit for six thousand years can certainly keep all the affairs of individuals and nations and continents in adjustment. We had not better fret much for the peasant's argument of the text was right. If God can take care of the seven worlds of the Pleiades and the four chief worlds of Orion, He can probably take care of the one world we inhabit. So I feel very much as my father felt one day when we were going to the country mill to get a grist ground, and I, a boy of seven years, sat in the back part of the wagon, and our yoke of oxen ran away with us and along a labyrinthine road through the woods, so that I thought every moment we would be dashed to pieces, and I made a terrible outcry of fright, and my father turned to me with a face perfectly calm and said: "DeWitt, what are you crying about? I guess we can ride as fast as the oxen can run." And, my hearers, why should we be affrighted and lose our equilibrium in the swift movement of worldly events, especially when we are assured that it is not a yoke of unbroken steers that are drawing us on, but that order and wise government are in the yoke? In your occupation, your mission, your sphere, do the best you can and then trust God, and if things are all mixed, and disquieting, and your brain is hot and your heart sick, get some one to go out with you into the starlight and point out to you the Pleiades, or, better than that, get into some observatory, and through the telescope see further than Amos with the naked eye could—namely, two hundred stars in the Pleiades, and that in what is called the Sword of Orion there is a nebula computed to be two trillion two hundred thousand billions of times larger than the sun. Oh, be at peace with the God who made and controlls all that! The wheel of the constellations turning in the wheel of galaxies for thousands of years without the breaking of a cog or the slipping of a band or the snap of an axle. For your placidity and comfort, through the Lord Jesus Christ, I charge you, "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two groups of the text was

THE GOD OF LIGHT.

Amos saw that God was not satisfied with making one star, or two or three stars, but He makes seven, and, having that group of worlds, makes another group, group after group. To the Pleiades he adds Orion. It seems that God likes light so well that He keeps making it. Only one being in the universe knows the statistics of solar, lunar, stellar, meteroic creations, and that is the Creator himself. And they have all been lovingly christened, each one a name as distinct as the names of your children. "He telleth the number of the stars; He calleth them by their names." The seven Pleiades had names given to them and they are Alcyone, Merope, Celaeno, Electra, Sterope, Taygete and Maia. But think of the billions and trillions of daughters of starry light that God calls by name as they sweep by Him with beaming brow and lustrous robe. So fond is God of light, natural light, moral light, spiritual light. Again and again is light harnessed for symbolization—Christ, the bright and morning star; evangelization, the daybreak; the redemption of nations, Sun of Righteousness rising with healing in his wings. Oh! men and women with so many sorrows and sins and perplexities, if you want light of comfort, light of pardon, light of goodness, in earnest prayer through Christ, "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two archipelagoes of stars must be

AN UNCHANGING GOD.

There had been no change in the stellar appearance in this herdsman's lifetime, and his father, a shepherd, reported to him that there had been no change in his lifetime. And these two clusters hang over the celestial arbor now, just as they were the first night that they shone on Edenic bowers, the same as when the Egyptians built the pyramids, from the top of which to watch them, the same as when the Chaldeans calculated the eclipses, the same as when Eliphaz, according to the book of Job, went out to study the aurora borealis; the same under Ptolemaic system and Copernican system, the same from Callisthenes to Pythagoras, and from Pythagoras to Herschel. Surely a changeless God must have fashioned the Pleiades and Orion. O, what an anodyne amid the ups and downs of life and the flux and reflux of the tides of prosperity, to know that we have a changeless God; the same yesterday, today and forever! Xerxes garlanded and knighted the steersman of his boat in the morning, and hanged him the evening of the same day. Fifty thousand people stood around the columns of the national capitol shouting themselves hoarse at the presidential inauguration, and in four months so great were the sympathies that a ruffian's pistol in Washington depot expressed the sentiment of a great multitude. The world sits in its chariot and drives tandem, and the horse ahead is Huzza and the horse behind is Anathema. Lord Cobham, in King James' time, was applauded and had $35,000 a year, but was afterward execrated and lived on scraps stolen from the royal kitchen. Alexander the great, after death, remained unburied for thirty days because no one would do the honor of shoveling him under. The Duke of Wellington refused to have his iron fence mended because it had been broken by an infuriated populace in some hour of political excitement, and he left it in ruins that men might learn what a fickle thing is human favor. "But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting to them that fear Him, and His righteousness unto the children's children of such as keep His covenant and to those who remember His commandments to do them." This moment "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars and Orion."

Again Amos saw, as we must see, that the God who made these two beacons of the Oriental night sky must be

A GOD OF LOVE AND KINDLY WARNING.

The Pleiades, rising in mid-sky, said to all the herdsmen and shepherds and husbandmen: "Come out and enjoy the mild weather and cultivate your gardens and fields." Orion coming in winter warned them to prepare for tempest. All navigation was regulated by these two constellations. The one said to shipmaster and crew: "Hoist sail for the sea and gather merchandise from other lands." But Orion was the storm signal and said: "Reef sail, make things snug or put into harbor, for the hurricanes are getting their wings out." As the Pleiades were the sweet evangels of the of the spring, Orion was the warning prophet of the winter. O, now I get the best view of God I ever had! There are two kinds of sermons I never want to preach—the one that present God so kind, so indulgent, so lenient, so imbecile, that men may do what they will against Him, and fracture His every law and put the cry of their impertinence and rebellion under His throne, and while they are spitting in His face and stabbing at His heart He takes them up in His arms and kisses their infuriated brow and cheek, saying: "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." The other kind of sermon I never want to preach is the one that represents God as a fire and torture and thunder bolt, and with red-hot pitch-fork tossing the human race into paroxysms of infinite agony. The sermon that I am now preaching believes in a God of loving, kindly warning, the God of spring and winter, the God of the Pleiades and Orion. You must remember that the winter is just as important as the spring. Let one winter pass without frost to kill vegetation, and ice to bind the rivers, and snow to enrich our fields, and then you will have to enlarge your hospitals and your cemeteries. "A green Christmas makes a fat grave yard," was the old proverb. Storms to purify the air; thermometer at ten degrees above zero to tone up the system; December and January just as important as May and June. I tell you we need the storms of life as much as we do the sunshine. There are more men ruined by prosperity than by adversity. If we had our own way in life, before this we would have been impersonations of selfishness and worldliness and disgusting sin, and puffed up until we would have been like Julius Caesar, who was made by sycophants to believe that he was divine, and the freckles on his face were as the stars of the firmament. One of the swiftest transatlantic voyages made last summer by the Etruria was because she had a stormy wind abaft, chasing her from New York to Liverpool. But to those going in opposite direction the storm was a baffeting and a hinderance. It is a bad thing to have a storm ahead pushing us back, but if we are God's children and aiming toward heaven the storms of life will only chase us the sooner into the harbor. I am so glad to believe that the monsoons and typhoons and mistrals and siroccos of land and sea are not unchained maniacs let loose upon the earth, but under divine supervision. I am so glad that the God of the Seven Stars is also the God of Orion. It was out of Dante's suffering came the sublime "Divina Commedia," and out of John Milton's blindness came "Paradise Lost," and out of miserable infidel attack came the "Bridgewater Treatise" in favor of Christianity, and out of David's exile came the songs of consolation, and out of the sufferings of Christ came the possibility of the world's redemption, and out of your bereavement, your persecution, your poverties, your misfortunes may yet come an eternal heaven.

Oh, what a mercy is it that in the text and all up and down the Bible God induces us to look out towards other worlds!

BIBLE ASTRONOMY.

In Genesis, in Joshua, in Job, in the Psalms, in the Prophets, major and minor, in St. John's Apocalypse, practically saying: "Worlds! worlds! worlds! Get ready for them!" We have a nice little world here that we stick to as though losing that we lose all. We are afraid of falling off this little raft of a world. We are afraid that some meteoric iconoclast will some night smash it, and we want everything to revolve around it, and we are disappointed when we find that it revolves around the sun, instead of the sun revolving around it. What a fuss we make about this little bit of a world, its existence only a short time between two spasms, the paroxysm by which it was hurled from chaos into order and the paroxysm of its demolition! And I am glad that so many texts call us to look off to other worlds, many of them larger and costlier and more resplendent. "Look there," says Job, "at Mazzaroth and Arcturus and his sons." "Look there," there says St. John, "at the moon under Christ's feet!" "Look there," says Joshua, "at the sun standing still above Gibeon!" "Look there," says Moses, "at the sparkling firmament." "Look there," says Amos, the herdsman, "at the seven stars and Orion!"

Don't let us be so sad about those who shove off from this world under Christly pilotage. Don't let us be so agitated about our own going off this little barge or sloop [illegible] of a world to get into some [illegible] asteroid the heavens. [illegible] waiting [illegible] the King's palace [illegible] our boat [illegible] their gates [illegible]. Why [illegible] In my Father's house are many mansions [illegible] I do not know but that each world is a room, and as many rooms as there are worlds, stellar stars, stellar galleries, stellar hallways, stellar windows, stellar domes. How our departed friends must pity us shut up in these cramped apartments, tired if we walk fifteen miles, when they some morning, by one stroke of wing, can make a circuit of the whole stellar system and be back in time for matins! Perhaps yonder twinkling constellation is the residence of the martyrs; that group of twelve luminaries is the celestial home of the apostles. Perhaps that steep of light is the dwelling-place of the angels, cherubic, seraphic, archangelic. A mansion with as many rooms as worlds and all their windows illuminated for festivity. O, how this widens and lifts and stimulates our expectation. How little it makes the present and how stupendous it makes the future! How it consoles us about our pious dead that instead of being boxed up and under the ground there have the range of as many rooms as they are worlds and welcome everywhere, for it is the Father's house, in which there are many mansions! Oh, Lord God of the Seven Stars and Orion, how can I endure the transport, the ecstacy of such a vision! I must obey my text and seek Him. I will seek Him. I seek Him now, for I call to mind that it is not the material universe that is most valuable, but the spiritual and that each of us has a soul worth more than all the worlds which the inspired herdsmen saw from his booth on the hills of Tekoa. I have studied it before, but the cathedral of Cologne, Germany, never impressed me as it did this summer. It is admittedly the grandest Gothic structure in the world; its foundation, laid in 1248, only two or three years ago completed. More than six hundred years in building. All Europe taxed for its construction. Its chapel of St. Agnes, with masterpieces of painting. Its spire, 511 feet into the heavens. Its stained glass, the chorus of all rich colors. Statues encircling the pillars and encircling all. Statues above, statues until sculpture can do no more, but faints and falls back against carved stalls and down on pavements over which the kings and queens of the earth have walked to confession. Nave, and aisles, and transept, and portals, combining the splendors of sunrise. Interlaced, interfoliated, inter-columned, grandeur. As I stood outside looking at the double range of flying buttresses and the forest of pinnacles, higher and higher and higher, until I almost reeled from dizziness, I exclaimed: "Great doxology in stone! Frozen prayer of many nations!" But while standing there I saw a poor man enter and put down his pack and kneel beside his burden on the hard floor of that cathedral. And tears of deep emotion came into my eyes as I said to myself: "There is a soul worth more than all the material surroundings. That man will live after the last pinnacle has fallen and not one stone of all that cathedral glory shall remain uncrumbled. He is now a lazarus in rags and poverty and weariness, but immortal and a son of the Lord God Almighty; and the prayer he now offers, though amid many superstitions, I believe God will hear, and among the Apostles, whose sculptured forms stand in the surrounding niches, he will at last be lifted, and into the presence of that Christ whose sufferings are represented by the crucifix before which he bows; and be raised in due time out of all his poverties into the glorious home built for him and built for us by 'Him who maketh the Seven Stars and Orion.'"

CATARRH

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, is neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acting though the blood reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic, and there was a constant dropping of nauseous matter from the roof of my mouth. It extended to my throat, causing hoarseness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved. SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 1885.

A Methodist Muddle.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

PHILADELPHIA, November 13.—At a meeting of the board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, to-day, the following telegram was received by Dr. Hynett, the corresponding secretary:

CINCINNATI, November 13.

To A. J. Hynett, D. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

The evening papers telephone us a sensational report about a defalcation in your society. Better wire us exact condition immediately.

(Signed) CRANSTON & STOWE.

Dr. Hynett read the telegram to the general committee and the following answer by telegraph was ordered to be made by unanimous vote.

Messrs. Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati.

The reports concerning a defalcation in the church extension, are utterly unfounded. The accounts have been audited and found accurate.

Bishop S. M. MERRILL, Chairman,
S. J. MCCONNEL, Secretary.

Just before adjournment, secretary McConnell called the committees attention to the fact that a communication from Mr. Price had been referred to the special committee yesterday and the committee were now ready to report. Bishop Harris called for the report, but before it could be given, a motion declaring it inexpedient to discuss the matter at this time was made. Dr. Hynett, the corresponding secretary opposed this, and said that the communication contained some grave charges against him and he was unwilling to rest under such imputations. He wanted the matter discussed, but finally agreed to postpone it for the present and the motion declaring that a discussion at the present moment would be inexpedient, prevailed. Dr. Hynett requested the members of the press not to make any reference to this communication, but Mr. Price, after the adjournment, distributed to the reporters printed copies of his communication.

[The main point made in said communication is that, while the German conferences collect and disburse their own funds, their total collections of $19,592 in 1883, $19,171 in 1884 were included in the general report of receipts, to "swell the accounts" of the church, while in point of fact the cash was never received into or paid out of the treasury, and Mr Price denounces this "method of swelling the accounts" as "misleading," dishonest and "lowering the standard of business morals."—Telegraph Editor.)

Chonic Looseness of the Bowels

Results from imperfect digestion. The cause lies in the torpidity of the liver. A regular habit of body can be secured by taking Simmons Liver Regulator to aid digestion, to stimulate the dull and sluggish liver, and rid the system of excessive and poisonous bile. The Regulator corrects acidity of the stomach, cures dyspepsia and permanently creates regularity of the bowels alike free from laxity or costiveness.

"I have never seen or tried such a simple, efficacious, satisfactory and pleasant remedy in my life as Simmons Liver Regulator. H. HAINES, St. Louis."

A Bad Strike.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, November 13. General Superintendent Jeffrey, of the Illinois Central railway, says two freight trains will be sent out this afternoon manned by officers of the company. One will be taken out by Assistant Superintendent Seymour and the assistant train master. Mr. Jeffrey said if the strikers would not be reasonable in their demands, he should at once put in new hands and start the trains under the police. The strikers scoff at the idea of the company's being able to do this and threaten trouble should any attempt be made.

Shortly after one o'clock a freight train, manned by the assistant superintendent and other officers of the the road, consisting of thirty-seven cars, loaded with freight for southern points, started from the yards. It had not proceeded far when it was boarded by a lot of strikers, who took complete possession of it, and ran it on a side track about a mile out.

A second train was started out about two p. m. but got no farther than 43rd street, where it was side tracked by the strikers as was the first. As far as known, no violence was used. At 3 p. m. Superintendent Beck telegraphed to the chief of Hyde Park police to send a detail of men to move the trains.

Mad Dairymen.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, November 13. In the dairy department of the fat stock show at the exposition, considerable excitement and indignation was noticeable this afternoon, over the action of the State Board of Agriculture, in deciding to allow the "butterine" and "oleomargarine" manufacturers a space in the building for their exhibits. The butter men denounced this action and did all they could to have the order rescinded but without avail.

At a meeting of the dairymen, late this afternoon, a resolution was adopted, requesting the state board of agriculture to furnish the dairymen's association, within thirty days, all the information upon which it based the resolution allowing the butterine manufacturers to enter the exhibits at the fat stock show. This information will be submitted to the executive committee of the dairymen's convention, which, it is expected, will adopt some measure that will clearly define the future course of the butter men in their relations with the manufacturers of butterine and oleomaragarine.

The Week of Prayer.

The following is the program for the observance of the week of prayer for young men by the Railroad Young Men's Christian association and other christian people in the city:

Saturday, 7 p. m., standard, address by Rev. S. F. Marks.

These services will be for all men, old or young, railroad or otherwise, and all are earnestly invited to attend.

Only a Step.

When catarrh has progressed to a certain extent, it is only a step to that fatal disease, consumption. If you have catarrh, even slightly, it is a terrible mistake to allow it to continue its course unchecked. If you will only read you will find conclusive reasons why you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, in the statements of many people who have been completely cured of this disease in its most severe forms. Send for book containing abundant evidence to C. I. Hood & Co., proprietors of Hoods Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.

How Women Differ From Men.

At least three men on the average jury are bound to disgrace with the rest just to show that they've got minds of their own; but there is no disagreement among the women as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's "Favorit Prescription." They are all unanimous in pronouncing it the best remedy in the world for all those chronic diseases, weakness and complaints peculiar to their sex. It transforms the pale haggard, dispirited women, into one of sparkling health, and the ringing laugh again "reigns supreme" in the happy household.

LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. [illegible] promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

SKIN TORTURES —AND— BLOOD HUMORS!!

Humiliating eruptions, itching and burning skin tortures, loathsome sore, and every species of itching, scaly, pimply, inherited scrofulous and contagious diseases of the blood, skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by Cuticura, the great skin cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, externally, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
Broad Brook, Conn.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your Cuticura Remedies, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.

Lowell Extra Super Carpets.

We are the sole agents in Fort Wayne of the manufacturers of these justly celebrated Carpets - admitted by all carpet experts to be the best Ingrain Carpets manufactured. Although they cost us five cents a yard more than other makes of Extra Super Ingrains, our price will be the same as others charge for goods of no established reputation.

Lowell Carpets do not spot or fade like other makes.

They are handsomer in design than others.

They are made of better wool, and so wear much longer.

As we are the manufacturer's agent we receive the new patterns from three to six months earlier than stores that have to buy these goods at second hand.

Do not be gulled by stores which when you ask for Lowells will throw you down one or two or three pieces of these goods in styles three or four years old, and offer them at a particularly low price.

Come direct to us where you can also see from the entire line of the handsomest patterns.

We have recently received a full car load of Brussels Carpets, in exquisitely handsome styles, which we have placed on sale at 65c, 75c, 85c, 90c and $1.

Also recently added to our stock some very beautiful designs in Body Brussels and Velvets.

EPITHELIOMA!

OR SKIN CANCER.

For seven years I suffered with a cancer on my face. All the simple remedies were applied to alleviate the pain, but the place continued to grow, finally extending into my nose, from which came a yellowish discharge very offensive in character. It was also inflamed, and annoyed me a great deal. About eight months ago I was in Atlanta, at the house of a friend, who so strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific that I determined to make an effort to procure it. In this I was successful, and began its use. The influence of the medicine at first was to somewhat aggravate the sore; but soon the inflammation was allayed, and I began to improve after the first few bottles. My general health has greatly improved. I am stronger, and able to do any kind of work. The cancer on my face began to decrease and the ulcer to heal, until there is not a vestige of it left—only a little scar marks the place where it had been. I am ready to answer all questions relative to this cure.

MRS. JOHN A. McDONALD,
Atlanta, Ga., August 11, 1885.

I have had a cancer on my face for some years, extending from one cheek bone across the nose to the other. It has given me great deal of pain, at times burning and itching to such an extent that it was almost unbearable. I commenced using Swift's Specific in May, 1885, and have used eight bottles. It has given the greatest relief by removing the inflammation and restoring my general health.

W. BARNES.
Knoxville, Iowa, Sept. 8, 1885.

For many years I was a sufferer with cancer of the nose, and having been cured by the use of S. S. S., I feel constrained by a sense of duty to suffering humanity to make this statement of my case. With the 14th bottle the cancer began to heal rapidly and soon disappeared, and for several months there has been no appearance of a sore of any kind on my nose or face, neither is my nose at all tender to the touch. I have taken about two dozen bottles S. S. S., and am soundly cured, and I know that S. S. S. effected the cure after every known remedy was tried and had failed.

ROBERT SMEDLEY.
Fort Gaines, Ga., May 1, 1885.

I had heard of the wonderful cures of Swift's Specific, and resolved to try it. I commenced taking it in April, 1885. My general health was much improved, yet the cancer which was in my breast continued to grow slowly but surely. The bunch grew and became quite heavy. I felt that I must either have it cut or die. But it commenced discharging quantities of almost black, thick blood. It continued healing around the edges until February, when it was entirely healed up and well.

BETTY WOOD.
Cochesett, Plymouth co., Mass., July 13, 1885.

Swift's Specific is entirely vegetable, and seems to cure cancers by forcing out the impurities from the blood.

"At the parlors of the Commercial hotel, last evening, a marriage took place, the contracting parties having been a couple of young people from Zanesville, Allen county. The groom's name was Weaver, and the officiating clergyman was Rev. Lovett, of Fort Wayne," says the Huntington Herald.

In the supreme court of this state, a finish has been reached in a legal contest of seven or eight years, in the case of Wm. Lamon, of Allen county, vs. W. H. Meech, of Huntington. The original hearing of the case was in the Grant county circuit court, and the jury rendered the remarkable judgment of $2,000 against Meech. Meech appealed to the supreme court, which revised the finding of the lower court giving him judgment for the costs. Motion for rehearing was then made by Lamon's attorney, Julius Kettner, but was denied. This closes the case in favor of Meech.

Mr. D. N. Foster has put a quietus on a Journal writer, who unjustly criticises the Local Electric Light company. This same newspaper publishes a boycott sheet to injure a hundred merchants.

Harry Metzgar and O. B. Wiley are at Chicago. Through the courtesy of J. C. Beeks and Tom Keefe, of the Chicago Times, they secured tickets of admission to the hanging of the three Italians there to-day.

"Night Yardmaster Cook has returned from Kansas and resumed his position here. Newt. had a tempting offer to remain in the west, but wisely concluded that his best prospects are here," says the Andrews Express.

The Telephone exchange at Wabash, will, in all probability, be abandoned within the next three months. The number of subscribers has dwindled from eighty-eight to sixteen, five of the latter number being dead-heads.

Capt. Hugh M. Deihl has a list of jewelry stolen from an Auburn man, who says he will pay more for their return than any pawnbroker will give. Quite a number of robberies are reported from suburban villages. The craze may come here soon.

The funeral of Mrs. Wm. Schaper occurs to-morrow afternoon at 1:30 from her home in the south end of the city and at 2 o'clock from the Lutheran church in the Seventh ward. Mrs. Schaper was a sister of Mrs. Wm. Meyer and mother of Mrs. Gust Franke.

"W. F. Rawles, an attorney of Fort Wayne, and an old-time acquaintance and exceedingly pleasant young man, was in the city on business connected with the Little River ditch, this morning. We enjoyed a brief but pleasant call from him," says the Huntington Herald.

Florence Sullivan, of Peru, who was injured in the Wabash wreck near La Porte several weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to be out, but has not yet returned to his work. All the passengers injured in the accident have recovered, and the road has settled the claim of each one. In this way many long and tedious damage suits were prevented.

"V. J. Card, of Warsaw, is traveling through the northern part of this county securing the right of way for a trunk line railroad, which, he says, is to be built next year. The projected route is an air line from Pittsburg to Omaha, and from Fort Wayne west, the right of way of the Fort Wayne, Peoria and Galesburg road will be used," says a Wabash correspondent.

Mrs. Layah Burrakat, of Syria, an escaped refugee from Egypt, will tell the story of her life in the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. This will be a union service of the three Presbyterian churches, though all are cordially invited to attend. Dr. Tuttle, of the Wabash college, remarked to a SENTINEL representative a short time ago that he considered this lady one of the finest lady talkers in America.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana have just turned out of their shops at Grand Rapids an elegant open excursion passenger car for use in their northern resort business next season. It is constructed on the same plan as the open cars, is beautifully decorated, and will be a pleasant addition to their excursion equipment. It will be put in the engine house at Big Rapids during the winter, and will be started on its trips next spring.

Adjutant General Koontz has gone to Dayton to see the managers of the soldiers home there regarding the admission of disabled and friendless soldiers, who have no means of support. Recently several of them who live in this state have applied for admission to the home, but have been refused, probably because there is no room for them. General Koontz has a number of applications from persons who are really deserving, but does not know what to do with them.

Mrs. John Lillie is visiting relatives at Kankakee, Ill.

The last will of John Majors was filed for probate to-day.

Mock, Nutter and Sparks have returned. Miller and Shoup are still in the wilderness.

The Fort Wayne Gazette says: "All the printers who were in the late strike have either left the city or have secured positions in other offices. The Boycotter is still being printed by the Fort Wayne Journal company and is being encouraged by a queer clothing house. The object of the Boycotter is to injure the business of the Gazette and SENTINEL and the clothing business of the dealers who advertise in the Gazette and SENTINEL."

Charles G. Deming, Albert Miller and Ellen McLaughlan were at police court this morning hooked as drunkards. Miller has lost one arm and was escorted out of the city. So was Ellen as she is a visitor and the mayor had no disposition to make them county boarders. Deming is a Huntington man and was howling drunk last night. He just got out of jail, where he has been confined at intervals since he came here to see Forepaugh's circus. Deming is a tough man and two policemen locked him up.

The Mestayer tourists will play at the Academy to night. The only plot to be discovered is that a party of tourists beguile the tedium of a railway journey across the continent each in a way peculiar to himself, and they manage to have more fun than the liveliest box of monkeys ever seen. The conductor and porter are simply immense. Interspersed throughout the trip are numerous bits of bright, pleasing, catchy music, in solo, quartette and chorus. Arthur Milton and Miss Lillian Langford in their solos are great. These words are from an exchange and as the Academy prices are popular they will have a crowd.

It is a fact too well known to be denied, that if it was not for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the proprietors in Florida would put their rates up to $10 per day.

The Evansville Bond Cases.

The Evansville city council has passed a resolution instructing its attorneys to appeal from Judge Wood's decision, holding that the $1,500,000 of bonds issued by the city to be valid obligations, to the supreme court of the United States in all the cases. This will delay a final decision for several years, and will pile up the costs and attorneys' fees enormously, but the learned exponents of the law will probably not object to this.

The "Princess Trebizondl" opera company play a return engagement at the Academy next week.

When George Cable is writing a novel he prances about the room imitating the characters he is delineating.

Moving day is generally dreaded by the head of the house. Trying to carry a bureau up stairs while your wife stands by and tells you not to scratch the paper on the wall, generally brings a pain in the back, but it can be easily cured by St. Jacobs Oil.

Danger from Catarrh

That exceedingly disagreeable and very prevalent disease, catarrh, is caused by scrofulous taint in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by its powerful purifying and vitalizing action upon the blood, speedily removes the cause, and thus effects a radical and permanent cure of catarrh. Those who suffer from its varied symptoms—uncomfortable flow from the nose, offensive breath, ringing and bursting noises in the ears, swelling of the soft parts of the throat, nervous prostration, etc.—should take Hood's Sarsaparilla and be cured.

Serious consequences are liable to ensue if catarrh is not attended to in season. The disease frequently destroys the sense of smell and often developes into bronchitis or pulmonary consumption. Undoubtedly many cases of consumption originate in catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh and has even effected remarkable cures of consumption itself, in its early stages. A book containing statements of many cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, will be sent free to all who send address to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Best Medicine

"I have suffered with catarrh in my head for years, and paid out hundreds of dollars for medicines, but have heretofore received only temporary relief. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and now my catarrh is nearly cured, the weakness of my body is all gone, my appetite is good—in fact, I feel like another person. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I have ever taken." MRS. A. CUNNINGHAM, Providence, R. I.

Catarrh and Impure Blood

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

"I suffered three years with catarrh, and my general health was poor in consequence. When I took Hood's Sarsaparilla I found I had the right remedy. The catarrh is yielding, as Hood's Sarsaparilla is cleansing my blood, and the general tone of my system is improving." FRANK WASHBURN, Rochester, N. Y.
